ON HIS OWN ACCOUNT.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius Investigated the Railway Crossing Case.

WAS HERE THIS FORENOON.

He Took Copious Notes, Asked No Questions, But Kept Dill- gently at Work.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius came to town this morning and remained a few hours, during which time he occupied himself in looking over the ground and gathering data concerning the proposition of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company to cross the Big Four tracks.

The railroad commissioner was unable to be present when the state board on railroad crossings held their conference here a month ago, and made a personal inspection of the conditions, and he therefore has not had an opportunity to see for himself what the objection may be to granting the new road permission to reach its depot grounds by intersecting the Big Four.

Accompanied by an engineer Mr. Wesselius this morning went over the ground thoroughly, taking measurement here and there, and making frequent entries in a book which he carried in his hip pocket. He made no particular effort to see any of the interested parties and when his work was through he stole quietly out of the city. The result of his investigation, it is expected, will reach the railway officials here in a few days.

Although it is not positive there is a possibility of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus running the first train over its line next Saturday. The company is laying a mile of track today and the remaining eight miles will be laid as soon as the rails arrive, which it is assured, will reach here this week. President Patterton, although hopeful, is not disposed to make any declarations concerning the time the first train will move.

The Big Four railway company is preparing for the construction of an addition of 600 feet to its dock property. The extension will begin at the wing dam and continue westward on a line with the intersection of the north pier and the government dock.

Surveyors have been at work for two days establishing lines, and today the company drove a cluster of piles on the dock line near the West Michigan railway bridge, which marks the commencement of the work.

Work will be commenced at once on the coaling station which the company will establish here.

AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

The Examination of William Burns In Progress.

William Burns, against whom the complaint of attempted murder rests, was taken before Justice Baldrey for a preliminary hearing this morning. Burns, it is remembered, recently forcibly seized little eight-year-old Allen Wilson, of St. Joseph, and dragged him into the under-growth in the rear of Ireland's planing mill where he declared he intended to kill the boy. He had grasped the little fellow by the throat and was tightening his death-like grip when a man passing along heard the struggle and divining the evident purpose of the brute, rushed to the boy's release, who was almost overcome with exhaustion from the vigorous struggles with his assailant. Wilson maintains that he was drunk and now has no remembrance of what is alleged to have occurred. Prosecuting Attorney Valentine is at a loss to understand the motive Burns might have had in desiring to kill the boy and if he was drunk it would be difficult to prove that there was an intent to murder on his part. There is a possibility of the charge being changed to assault and battery and the man sentenced to a term in the county jail.

One of the most interesting prisoners in the county jail is James Mullen, serving a sentence for drunkenness. His sentence will expire Sept. 25. Mullen is 32 years old and was once an eminent newspaper reporter. He has held positions on several of the leading newspapers of the east and although years of dissipation have marked his features with the brand of vice he is still intelligent looking and an easy conversationalist. He is college bred, and carries an air of aristocracy with him. He is a born artist and his cartoons have appeared in many metropolitan papers. He has a pocket-full of the products of his genius in art and enjoys exhibiting them to callers at the jail. It was intoxicating liquors that lost him his position and dragged him down to a level with the commonest hobo.

A sentence of 15 days in the county jail is the punishment administered by Justice Baldrey to John Ewing who yesterday got drunk and became maliciously mischievous. The county jail was yesterday visited by a bailiff and guard from the Cook county jail.

The four jail-breakers are still in hiding. No information regarding their whereabouts can be given.

THE WEATHER.

NO MORE CONCERTS.

Frazell's Military Band Will Quit the Open Air Music.

Frazell's Military band will give no more open air concerts this season.

Six weeks ago the band was organized by the election of disinterested citizens as officers and a canvass of the business part of the city was successful in securing subscriptions to an open air concert fund amounting to between $200 and $300 for the weekly concerts during the month of July, August and September.

August 1, Hart Green, the treasurer and collector of the band, called on the subscribers for their subscriptions for the first month and although six or seven concerts had been given some of the subscribers refused to pay because the concerts were not given in front of their places of business and several who did pay made a kick about one thing or another. The complaints reached the ears of Prof. Frazell and he has declared the band concerts off. The people who paid for the season will have their money refunded.

There are about 25 members in the band. For the seven open air concerts given $30 was collected or $1.20 for each member which is 17 1/7 cents each night for playing about twelve selections.

If Frazell's Military band would break up then Benton Harbor would wake up to an appreciation of what they had.

THE CAR FERRY DEAL.

Doubt Expressed Whether the Monster Ferries Will Ever Come to Benton Harbor Again.

MANY WILD RUMORS AFLOAT.

The Benton Harbor Electric Lives in Hopes of Something Turning Up.

It would not now surprise the people of this city if the car ferries of the Michigan and Wisconsin railroad never made another trip to Benton Harbor.

The ferries left this port on their first trip a week ago and made the run to Peotone in less than 18 hours. The program was for the boats to immediately return and make four trips a week. But since they left nothing has been heard from them, except a letter which was received from Big Four officials by Agent Smith stated that the ferries would begin running today. He has received no wire today saying that the boats had started and in consequence does not expect them. There is not a single loaded car awaiting transportation across the lake.

There are many rumors afloat about the ferries that cannot be verified. Among the long list is the report that the company was only working a bluff and never intended to establish a ferry line to the east side of the lake, and that the initial trip was made merely for the purpose of whipping some of the western railroads in line as regards concessions on rates and time.

The offices of the Benton Harbor Electric railway company are open eight or ten hours a day and President Hamilton, Secretary Hollis and Treasurer Davies are busy with a lot of clerical work getting matters in shape for business. They are greatly handicapped by the fact that they are still locked out of their own safe but are preparing to overcome that difficulty. Those in a place to know something of the matter declare that there will be some surprising developments in the affairs of the company before the middle of the month.

Dead Sparrows Hit Tip.

Fred Benedict, the electric light trimmer at Niles, has a little side business that is paying him quite well. Every day when he trims the lamps he searches the hoods, and never fails to secure from one to half a dozen sparrows from each lamp. Recently he turned over 600 to the city clerk.

Chamberlain Talks of John Bull's New Tariff Policy.

DONE TO PLEASE THE COLONIES.

At the Request of Those Who Are Both Governing, and with the Purpose of Closer Imperial Relations—Lawson Brings Up the South African Matter and Gives Rhodes a Honest—What France Expects of the United States.

London, Aug. 5.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Chamberlain, answering a question in the house of commons yesterday on the subject of the denunciation by the government of Great Britain of the treaties of commerce with Germany and Belgium, said the denunciation was the unanimous wish of the self-governing colonies, who desire to deal with the United Kingdom on preferential terms. Chamberlain added that at the conference between the colonial premiers and himself a resolution was passed unanimously, the substance being that the premiers of the self-governing colonies heartily recommended the earliest denunciation of the treaties as hampering the trade of Great Britain and her colonies, and that it was accompanied by an important and significant resolution, namely, that in the hope of improving the trade relations between the mother country and the colonies the premiers present undertook to confer with their colleagues as to what result could be secured by a preference given by the colonies to the products of the United Kingdom.

Not a Step Toward Separation.

On the receipt of these instructions, Chamberlain further explained, her majesty's government resolved to immediately withdraw the treaties with Germany and Belgium. The secretary said also that the law officers of the crown were now considering the question whether the resolution of the Canadian parliament infringed these treaties. The Canadian government, Chamberlain added, has asked to be allowed to be represented before the law officers of the crown. This was unusual, the colonial secretary explained, but the request of the government of Canada had been granted. In conclusion Chamberlain assured the house that the action of Canada on this matter was not a step towards separation, but distinctly a movement against separation, the intention being to show gratitude and to prove the loyalty of the colonies.

Another Attack on Rhodes.

The South African policy of the British government was subjected to an attack in the commons by Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Liberal, who also gave Cecil Rhodes a sharp prodding. Calling attention to the attitude of the secretary of state for the colonies, Chamberlain, towards South Africa, Sir Wilfrid claimed the latter's policy as being "dangerous and destructive to our reputation abroad." Referring to Cecil Rhodes Sir Wilfrid remarked that the ex-premier of Cape Colony was guilty of "treachery, betrayal of his sovereign, and disloyalty to his colleagues."

Considered a Closed Incident.

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid explained that Rhodes' guilt consisted in "falsely dating a letter which was very like forgery, involving bloodshed, murder and confusion in many parts of the world. Yet all had been endorsed by Mr. Chamberlain, who had placed the house of commons in the degrading position of declaring Mr. Rhodes to be an honorable man, thus making Great Britain the laughing-stock of all nations."

Chamberlain, replying to Sir Wilfrid, declined to reopen "questions which were regarded as settled." He added: "As to submitting disputes with the Transvaal to arbitration it would be an extraordinary course to submit to a foreign tribunal a dispute between a suzerain and a subordinate state."

CHULALONGKORN AT OSBORNE

Siam's King Goes to See Victoria—Visit to London Siam.

Portsmouth, Aug. 5.—King Chulalongkorn and his suite arrived here yesterday from London on his way to visit Queen Victoria at Osborne. His majesty was received at the railroad station by the Prince of Wales. The warships here were decorated with bunting and fired a royal salute as the king proceeded on his way to the Isle of Wight. At Osborne the King of Siam lunched with the queen and later he took tea with the Prince and Princess of Wales on board the royal yacht Osborne.

London, Aug. 5.—The king of Siam, accompanied by the crown prince of Siam, Prince Chouwai Maha Vajravich, and by Lord Harris, one of her majesty's lords-in-waiting, who is in attendance upon the king during his stay in England, made a surprise visit Tuesday night to an east end institution established for the shelter of the homeless. His majesty was greatly interested in the 300 outcasts occupying bunks in the building and inquired closely into all the details of managing such institutions.

FRANCE AND THE DINGLEY ACT.

Will Expect That 20 Per Cent. Tariff Reduction Without Another Treaty.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Gaulois publishes an interview with the minister of commerce, M. Boucher, in which he is quoted as declaring that it "should not for a moment be doubted that President McKinley will spontaneously grant to France 20 per cent. tariff reduction, as permitted by the Dingley bill." Boucher is reported to have added: "It is, of course, only on this condition that France will continue to grant the United States the customs concessions arranged as a quid pro quo for the economic advantages which have now disappeared. In asking for this reduction France will cite the favors accorded to imports from the United States and the liberal legislation enabling American insurance companies to operate in France in competition with the home companies."

Must Not Enter Crete Waters.

Crete, Aug. 5.—Upon receipt of the news that the Turkish squadron from the Dardanelles was coming into these waters, the French government sent a note to the Turkish government, asking that the Turkish squadron be sent to the Suez Canal.

KLONDYKE GOLD FIELDS.

Government to be Represented in the National Capital.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Incited by the newspaper publications recently tending to throw doubt upon the ownership of the Klondyke gold fields, some of the high government officials who would naturally be expected to deal with the question if it comes to a practical issue have been quietly looking into the matter with a view to preparing themselves for any controversy that might arise. Their views are in substance that there can be no valid objection advanced to the title of Great Britain to this territory.

A careful examination of all of the reliable charts and maps made far enough back in date to be free from suspicion of influence of the recent heavy gold finds has convinced these officers that so far as the Klondyke fields, as defined by the latest reports, are concerned there can be no question that they lie east of the 141st meridian, which defines the boundary line, and so are within British territory by about thirty-five miles at least.

As for the meridian itself, it is said that it has been closely located by the surveys of the Canadians and our own coast survey; that there is not at any point a difference of more than 700 feet in the claimed boundary, which of course would not substantially affect any controversy that might grow out of the title.

"WE HOLD THESE TRUTHS!"

Ahem, That Is, They Are Self-Evident in Some Other Country.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 5.—As the result of the employment of twenty-five negro women in the folding department of the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills yesterday morning, over 1,400 men, women and children have gone on one of the largest strikes that has ever occurred in this city. The mills were forced to shut down their entire plant. When the notice was put up that the mills were closed much disorder broke out, and it was the intention of the strikers at first to cause trouble, but the police reserve force arrived in time to quell any disturbance. The local textile union took the side of the strikers and sent notices to them to hold out for their rights.

When this became known the employes of the mills, all white, walked out. Some of those who quit were the oldest and most reliable employes of the company. Elsas, president of the company, explained that it was only a small affair, and would be arranged in a short time, after which the mills would reopen on full time. The strikers, however, are determined and are receiving the aid of the local unions. Several years ago the same experiment was tried in working negroes and with the same result.

No Work in This Case.

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 5.—John Walters, one of the earliest settlers of Brown county, and now a resident of Duck Creek, took a novel method of settling his estate. Walters is getting well advanced in years and he called his family of nine children around him and proposed that the estate be divided among them now and thus save future litigation. The plan agreed upon was that the estate should be divided into nine parts of as nearly equal value as possible and that corresponding numbers should be drawn. To this all agreed. The numbers were accordingly thrown into a hat and the drawing progressed good-naturedly to the end, when all declared themselves satisfied.

Died Worth a Couple of Millions.

Rockford, Ills., Aug. 5.—The schedule of the property of the late Judge Benjamin R. Sheldon, of Rockford, shows a total of $1,198,253 in addition to 13,000 acres of improved farming land in eight states and some valuable city property in different localities, the whole amounting to over $2,000,000. Among the bequests which come out of the estate are sums of $10,000 each to the Rockford and Freeport Young Men's Christian association and $100,000 to Williams college.

THE EVENING NEWS.

SECOND YEAR—NO. 570.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1897.

ONE CENT.

SPOILED THE DAY.

Rain Interfered With the Young People's Picnic at Berrien Springs Yesterday.

BALLOON FLIGHT A SUCCESS.

Program of Amusements Suffers From the Effect of the Moisture.

Young People's day at Berrien Springs was a disappointment to hundreds of people and especially so to the members of the association who had made elaborate preparations to entertain a big crowd.

From early in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening there were short intervals when rain was not falling, and as a consequence only a few of the farmers and their families were in attendance.

The program which had been arranged for the morning and included a baseball game, was abandoned an account of the rain. In the afternoon short exercises were held in the grove. The Evening News Boys' band opened exercises with a selection followed by prayer. Lee Wilkinson, of St. Joseph, delivered a short address of welcome and introduced the speaker of the day, Rev. Hess, who gave a brief history of the association and spoke at some length on the condition of our country. Mr. Hess is an eloquent speaker and his address was listened to with much interest. He was obliged to make his speech short on account of the rain.

The bicycle races were held on a half mile track opposite the grove. The first was the one mile open with the following entries: Sawyer, Dowagiac; Jones and Mauer, Niles; Woodward, Osborne and Howard, Benton Harbor. The race was won in the order named in 2:36. The four mile race was entered by the same people with the exception of Howard who refused to ride in the rain which was falling when the race was called. First place was won by Sawyer, second by Jones, third by Mauer and fourth by Woodward. A handicap race had been arranged for but owing to the rain was abandoned.

The foot race was won by Baily of Buchanan.

The balloon ascension made by Prof. Frank Casad was a beautiful exhibition of aerial navigation. The inflation of the big air ship was begun at 5:55 and at 6:20 it was soaring majestically upwards. The professor ascended to a height of 5,000 feet and returned to earth riding the balloon. One thousand feet above the ground he dropped his pet dog out of the basket and dangling from the end of a parachute the dog made a safe return to earth. The balloon is of enormous size. It stands 75 feet high with a diameter of 45 feet.

The ascension was viewed by hundreds of people and was completed so cleverly that Prof. Casad may claim the distinction of being the most daring and successful aeronaut of the many who have performed in this country.

During the day the Berrien Springs band, under the leadership of Director Stowe, furnished good music and much fun. They were dressed as farmers and looked decidedly green.

The Evening News Boys' band played during the day and received merited applause.

Owing to the small number of members of the association present no officers were elected but a committee appointed to name the officers and will report next week.

The Break in the Jail.

Niles Star: St. Joseph must take her oast. That strong jail she bragged so much about has been sawed into and four prisoners went their way. The fellows who sawed loose from the county jail, simply made a test case. The supervisors are not to blame. Evidently the prisoners did not like 30 cents a day rations.

Off for Klondike.

Berrien Springs Era: Del Marston, of Niles, is to start for Klondike in a few days. He is a son of W. H. Marston, formerly register of deeds of this county.

BIG BATCH OF CASES.

Supreme Court to be Busy With Berrien County Suits.

There are upwards of 15 cases from this county to be heard before the supreme court at its October sitting. Included in the list are the following important cases:

Fyfe vs English, Kelly vs Guy, McIntyre vs Farmers' & Merchants bank, Chaddock vs Tabor, Colby vs Portman, Brower vs Tatro, Bierce & Smith Vaille company vs Niles Paper Mill company and Bennett vs Drew.

The law firms appearing in these cases are Valentine & Ellsworth, Plummer & Riford and Gore & Harvey.

TONIGHT'S BENEFIT.

Fine Theatrical Performance at the Academy of Music.

Tonight at the Academy of Music, St. Joseph, "The Chimney Corner" by Dickens will be presented by a company of artists well equipped in comedy acting. The entertainment will be given for the benefit of Messrs. Mitchell, Welch and Weener, of the Baker Stock company.

J. A. Simon and his wife are included in the cast, the former carrying the serio-comic part of Peter Probit. This will be the last opportunity Benton Harbor and St. Joseph will have to witness the work of Mr. Simon before he leaves on his starring tour and it should not be lost.

Many interesting specialties will be introduced and an entertainment of rare interest is assured.

NEW YORK PEACH CROP.

season of the year the fruit is making the pit. This is an important function and if a good season is noted during this process of fruit life there will be evidences of it in the fully matured peach. A good, healthy peach pit means a good healthy peach. The indications are now that the fruit will be larger than it has been for several years and that the flavor will be fully sustained. Early sorts are ripening in excellent shape and the size of that which has been marketed shows that the rain, while it has rotted some of the fruit, has been of a general relief. The rot in grape vineyards is noticeable yet the damage will not be so great as it has been reported. The most damage will result from the hail storms that have passed over a portion of the fruit belt during the last ten days.

A POLITICAL COMBINE.

Leading Democrat Says That Bliss and Pingree Have Combined.

J. W. Thorn, of Owosso, the political backer of Wellington R. Burt for the democratic nomination for governor, was in the city last night and engaged in his favorite pastime—talking politics.

"I will tell you what it is, Pingree is the shrewdest politician in the state. He has come out openly against Burrows and will give the junior senator the liveliest kind of a hustle. Pingree has formed an alliance with Colonel Bliss. Bliss you will notice, has invited the governor to Buffalo to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. and Pingree in a very courteous note has accepted. All this means that Bliss will support Pingree next year and a year later Pingree will support Bliss. Colonel Bliss is the biggest man in the Michigan G. A. R. and above everything else he wants to be governor of the state. Watch and see if I am not right."

MICHIGAN SLIGHTED.

She Has Not Her Full Share of the Offices.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—Joseph P. Smith, the new director of the bureau of American republics, has just created a sensation among the office seekers here by publishing a special bulletin containing the personnel of the diplomatic and consular service right up to date. Never before in the history of the government has a diplomatic and consular list been issued that was in any sense a reliable basis for the office seeker to work upon.

The small showing which Michigan makes in the bulletin has attracted the attention of several aspirants for honors in the consular service who want to be sent abroad and charged to the Wolverine state. One patient office seeker in commenting on the new publication said:

"I don't suppose the people of Michigan realize that in the entire diplomatic and consular service, which now numbers a little more than 1,200 places, but eleven Michigan men are provided for, and, with a single exception, these are very modest places. The list shows 101 offices in the diplomatic service, of which Michigan has two—Minister James E. Angell, recently appointed to Turkey, and Mr. McCreary, secretary of the legation at Mexico.

"In the consular service, according to the new bulletin, there are about 1,000 places, of which Michigan has nine, or only about one-third what she is entitled to if taken as an average state in the Union. These places are none of them of special consequence, seven of them being in Canada. W. K. Anderson at Hanover, Germany, is the only representative in all Europe."

THE "NEW WOMAN."

Comes to the Front in Barnum & Bailey's Show.

The "new woman," so-called, comes to the front in the Barnum & Bailey show in fine style. Year by year, while women are usurping what were formerly exclusively masculine commercial lines of business, they are also demonstrating their peculiar capacity for all sorts of professional athletics. Women refuse to be ground down by the iron heel of man even in physical expertness and endurance. They are showing more aptness in acrobatics than the opposite sex. In the great Barnum show this season the women absorb more of the business than ever before. When the first circus woman not a rider made her appearance not many years ago she was billed as a great sensation. Yet she did little else than pose and slide down a wire with a leather strap in her teeth, and her golden hair streaming down her back. Since then women have become distinguished among professional athletics for something more than an iron jaw. The big show illustrates this in a startling way. There are two women ringmasters, two women clowns, a dozen pretty women assistants in knickerbockers, half a dozen women trapeze artists, as many of the horizontal bars, women jugglers, women tumblers, women wire walkers, women clog dancers, a female hypnotist of horses, women horse trainers, women pigeon shooters, band leader, contortionists, and the human arrow, or the daring woman who is shot through midair from a cross-bow. Besides these, all of the women bareback riders do acrobatic feats, such as leaping on and off at full gallop, while one woman does the somersault on horseback just the same as the champion male riders of the ring. This is the first time such a feat has ever been attempted by a woman. The biggest woman in the world, over eight feet high, heads the museum of human wonders—wherein also dispel feminine snake charmers, women magicians and memory freaks, etc. And there, by the way, is a lifelike representation of the coming man in a midget of 23 inches height. Women in the circus are doing much to destroy the vine and oak theory of the relation of the sexes.

The big show will exhibit in Benton Harbor next Saturday.

THE DOGS OF WAR.

On the left of the pup lines of Greek infantry lay on the high, bare hills, firing without intermission. Gray smoke went up and backward from all these lines. Sometimes wounded men came from there and passed the pup as he sat reclining in the roadway. Directly in front a mountain battery of the Greeks was roaring, and the horses and mules of the command were browsing the grass in a sheltered place not far from the pup. Some soldiers lay in an unbroken furrow of brown trenches.

If the pup had studied the vast green plain on his right, he would have seen black lines and lines still fainter than black, and these lines were all Turks. Frequently a crescendo of hoots and barking noises was in the air above him, and the shells crashed as they struck. Moreover, there was sometimes mournful singing of great insects. But for all these things the pup did not care.

He was a little pup, not larger than a kitten, but he was fat and fairly smothered in long white wool, marked here and there with black, and he had every indifference of a fat pup. Two soldiers came that way on their return to the front, and, seizing him, paused. One stooped and offered him gently a bit of hard biscuit, but he had been used to other food, and, with the innocence of babyhood, he scorned the generosity of these men who had stopped under fire to give him assistance. They laughed then and stroked his long hair and went away to their business.

The pup's interest was always the thing directly under his nose. He was really in the battle of Velestino, but what he wanted to do was to waddle in his curious way among the stones of the roadway and smell at them and fall over them whenever he forgot that he was too heavy. Although he was not larger than a cake of soap he had something elephantine in his movement. His little legs were still very weak, and he sprawled and straddled over the road in a way that one would expect of a baby elephant. Once a cavalryman with sabre galloped past him, and a hoof of the gray charger missed him by a little, but he didn't care for that either. He was busy with his geological survey.

The Examiner correspondent came along from the firing line at that time and stopped when he saw the dog. The dog had been trying to scratch his near ear with his off hind leg, but he stopped when he saw The Examiner correspondent. They looked at each other in reflective silence. The pup had a crafty eye, and he put his head on one side and surveyed the correspondent with much attention to detail. Another shell came close then, and your correspondent said, "Come on, pup." He took the pup in his arms.

The dog was naturally named Velestino at once. There was a thought in the correspondent's mind of calling him Loot. But then he was not really loot. He was simply a Greek pup deserted by his relatives and friends in a most trying hour, who had accepted the assistance of a correspondent of The Examiner. His home had probably been in one of the stone huts that stood here and there along the road, now all lonely. His owners had probably scuttled out at word of the coming of the Turks. But he didn't care about this either. He simply lolled on the correspondent's arm and blinked fatly at the passing landscape.

When the correspondent arrived where his horses awaited him, he gave the pup Velestino into the hands of his Greek boy and stood and admonished him sternly for five minutes about the inadvisability of losing that pup. The boy grinned and took Velestino in his arms.

Later the pup got under a particularly heavy artillery fire. While the correspondent's party was crossing a bit of plain the Turks opened fire on a nearby house. One would have thought they had opened on the pup, because they came nearer to the pup than they did to the house. There was some excitement. The stragglers in the road scurried everywhere. The correspondent had a bit of trouble with his horse, which had been hurt in the back by some kind of fragment, and when it was all over he looked around for the pup, the two servants and the other horses, and there was none.

Later that night in Volo a knock came to the correspondent's door, and as he called out it opened, and the Greek boy appeared, with a bow and a smile. "Where is the pup?" said the correspondent instantly.

The Greek boy had brought a large shell which he said had almost killed him, and he exhibited it proudly. "There is the pup!"

The boy said he was sure he was going to be killed when he heard the shell, but he now considered his escape imminent. "There is the pup!"

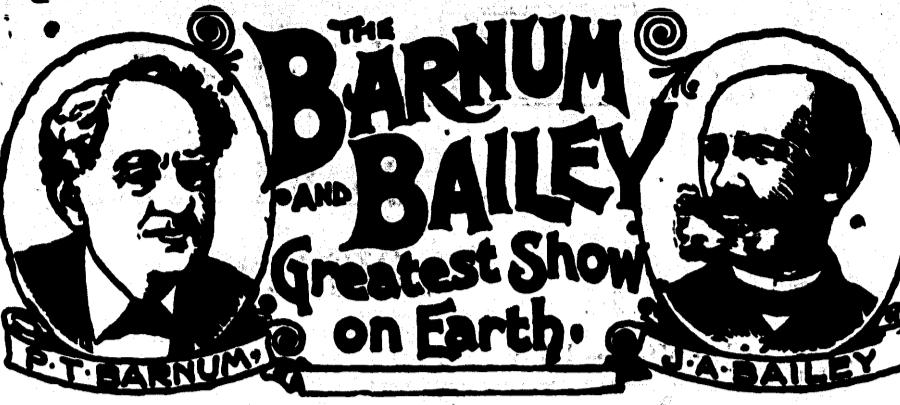

"There is the pup!" said the correspondent.

"There is the pup!"

FARMING IN THE SOUTH.

NO DROUGHTS, GENIAL CLIMATE AND AVAILABLE SECTIONS ESPECIALLY ADAPTED TO SETTLEMENT BY NORTHERN FARMERS.

Almost every variety of grains and grasses grown in the North can be successfully grown in the South, but the crops that give best results for the money invested and labor expended are fruits and vegetables. Cotton is no longer King in the South. This wonderful change may possibly have been brought about by the large number of Northern farmers that have located at so many points on the Illinois Central and the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroads in the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, and carried with them the

PRACTICAL IDEAS OF DIVERSIFIED FARMING

as practiced in the North. No country in America can compare with southern Mississippi and northern Louisiana for the cultivation of fruits and vegetables, and the time is not far distant when this locality will supply the early markets of the North and Northwest. All who contemplate a change of location should investigate this favored section, to aid in which, send for a free copy of the Yellowstone Lake.

"There is an individuality about lakes. Perhaps the most striking thing about Yellowstone lake is its high altitude. It is up among the mountains and clouds in Yellowstone park nearly a mile and a half—7,741 feet—above where the sportive summer girl sits on the beach at the Atlantic ocean while the lazy wavelets ripple about her dainty toes. But as high as it is the mountains rise higher still by thousands of feet. In a solemn, owl-like fashion they blink down at the lake, and the lake blinks back at them. These mountains are well defined peaks, and cones, and turrets, and nearly all are named. Some of them are in this way redolent of the old explorers, the men who first braved the perils and difficulties of an unknown, untraversed wilderness. Such are Colter peak and Mount Doane."

The above is taken from "Wonderland '97," a beautiful new tourist book published by the Northern Pacific railway. It will be mailed to any address upon receipt of six cents in stamps by CHAS. S. FEE, Gen'l Pass. agent, St. Paul, Minn.

ON HIS OWN ACCOUNT.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius Investigated the Railway Crossing Case.

WAS HERE THIS FORENOON.

He Took Copious Notes, Asked No Questions, But Kept Diligently at Work.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius came to town this morning and remained a few hours, during which time he occupied himself in looking over the ground and gathering data concerning the proposition of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company to cross the Big Four tracks.

The railroad commissioner was unable to be present when the state board on railroad crossings held their conference here a month ago, and made a personal inspection of the conditions, and he therefore has not had an opportunity to see for himself what the objection may be to granting the new road permission to reach its depot grounds by intersecting the Big Four.

Accompanied by an engineer Mr. Wesselius this morning went over the ground thoroughly, taking measurement here and there, and making frequent entries in a book which he carried in his hip pocket. He made no particular effort to see any of the interested parties and when his work was through he stole quietly out of the city. The result of his investigation, it is expected, will reach the railway officials here in a few days.

Although it is not positive there is a possibility of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus running the first train over its line next Saturday. The company is laying a mile of track today and the remaining eight miles will be laid as soon as the rails arrive, which it is assured, will reach here this week. President Patterton, although hopeful, is not disposed to make any declarations concerning the time the first train will move.

The Big Four railway company is preparing for the construction of an addition of 600 feet to its dock property. The extension will begin at the wing dam and continue westward on a line with the intersection of the north pier and the government dock.

Surveyors have been at work for two days establishing lines, and today the company drove a cluster of piles on the dock line near the West Michigan railway bridge, which marks the commencement of the work.

Work will be commenced at once on the coaling station which the company will establish here.

AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

The Examination of William Burns In Progress.

William Burns, against whom the complaint of attempted murder rests, was taken before Justice Baldrey for a preliminary hearing this morning. Burns, it is remembered, recently forcibly seized little eight-year-old Allen Wilson, of St. Joseph, and dragged him into the under-growth in the rear of Ireland's planing mill where he declared he intended to kill the boy. He had grasped the little fellow by the throat and was tightening his death-like grip when a man passing along heard the struggles and divining the evident purpose of the brute, rushed to the boy's release, who was almost overcome with exhaustion from the vigorous struggles with his assailant. Wilson maintains that he was drunk and now has no remembrance of what is alleged to have occurred. Prosecuting Attorney Valentine is at a loss to understand the motive Burns might have had in desiring to kill the boy and if he was drunk it would be difficult to prove that there was an intent to murder on his part. There is a possibility of the charge being changed to assault and battery and the man sentenced to a term in the county jail.

One of the most interesting prisoners in the county jail is James Mullen, serving a sentence for drunkenness. His sentence will expire Sept. 25. Mullen is 32 years old and was once an eminent newspaper reporter. He has held positions on several of the leading newspapers of the east and although years of dissipation have marked his features with the brand of vice he is still intelligent looking and an easy conversationalist. He is college bred, and carries an air of aristocracy with him. He is a born artist and his cartoons have appeared in many metropolitan papers. He has a pocket-full of the products of his genius in art and enjoys exhibiting them to callers at the jail. It was intoxicating liquor that lost him his position and dragged him down to a level with the commonest hobo.

A sentence of 15 days in the county jail is the punishment administered by Justice Baldrey to John Ewing who yesterday got drunk and became maliciously mischievous.

The county jail was yesterday visited by a bailiff and guard from the Cook county jail.

The four jail-breakers are still in hiding. No information regarding them has yet been received by the

NO MORE CONCERTS.

Frazell's Military Band Will Quit the Open Air Music.

Frazell's Military band will give no more open air concerts this season.

Six weeks ago the band was organized by the election of disinterested citizens as officers and a canvass of the business part of the city was successful in securing subscriptions to an open air concert fund amounting to between $200 and $300 for the weekly concerts during the month of July, August and September.

August 1, Hart Green, the treasurer and collector of the band, called on the subscribers for their subscriptions for the first month and although six or seven concerts had been given some of the subscribers refused to pay because the concerts were not given in front of their places of business and several who did pay made a kick about one thing or another. The complaints reached the ears of Prof. Frazell and he has declared the band concerts off. The people who paid for the season will have their money refunded.

There are about 25 members in the band. For the seven open air concerts given $30 was collected or $1.20 for each member which is 17 1/7 cents each night for playing about twelve selections.

If Frazell's Military band would break up then Benton Harbor would wake up to an appreciation of what they had.

THE CAR FERRY DEAL.

Doubt Expressed Whether the Monster Ferries Will Ever Come to Benton Harbor Again.

MANY WILD RUMORS AFLOAT.

The Benton Harbor Electric Lives in Hopes of Something Turning Up.

It would not now surprise the people of this city if the car ferries of the Michigan and Wisconsin railroad never made another trip to Benton Harbor.

The ferries left this port on their first trip a week ago and made the run to Pheinstro in less than 18 hours. The program was for the boats to immediately return and make four trips a week. But since they left nothing has been heard from them, except a letter which was received from Big Four officials by Agent Smith stated that the ferries would begin running today. He has received no wire today saying that the boats had started and in consequence does not expect them. There is not a single loaded car awaiting transportation across the lake.

There are many rumors afloat about the ferries that cannot be verified. Among the long list in the report that the company was only working a bluff and never intended to establish a ferry line to the east side of the lake, and that the initial trip was made merely for the purpose of whipping some of the western railroads in line as regards concessions on rates and time.

The offices of the Benton Harbor Electric railway company are open eight or ten hours a day and President Hamilton, Secretary Hollis and Treasurer Davies are busy with a lot of clerical work getting matters in shape for business. They are greatly handicapped by the fact that they are still locked out of their own safe but are preparing to overcome that difficulty. Those in a place to know something of the matter declare that there will be some surprising developments in the affairs of the company before the middle of the month.

Dead Sparrows His Tip.

Fred Benedict, the electric light trimmer at Niles, has a little side business that is paying him quite well. Every day when he trims the lamps he searches the hoods, and never fails to secure from one to half a dozen sparrows from each lamp. Recently he turned over $60 to the city clerk.

PAW-LAW, SHREWD
men's boats disabled and passengers turned away.

OMAHA, Aug. 4.—On Monday and Tuesday two of the smaller steamers attempted to handle the heavy traffic incident to this time of the year, and the service was inadequate. Some of the boats are disabled.

On Sunday over half the resorters who came to spend several days were obliged to return to Chicago on the night boat, there being no suitable accommodations open for them. Boarding house keepers are crowded, and while this circumstance was regretted, it unfortunately happened that the rush was too great. It may not, and, we hope will not occur again.

HER ONLY FAULT.

As I went to my bachelor chamber one night
And reflected on life as I put out the light
I resolved that the clubs I would visit no more,
But devote my affections to dear Isadore.

She is faultless in figure and lovely in face,
Every movement the very perfection of grace—
No coqueting and gentle, congenial and sweet
That the stoics and cynics are all at her feet.

Like the wings of the humming bird over the keys
My her tapering fingers in Liszt's potpourris;
She excels on the harp and the Spanish guitar,
And her voice is soprano that reaches to fa.

She is witty and brilliant in quick repartees,
And she sings cavatinas with marvelous E's, Conversation in German and French can sus-tain,
And has traveled in Italy, Egypt and Spain.

All the tender emotions so scouted before
Were aroused in my heart for the fair Isadore,
But my growing affections are nipp'd in the
bnd,
For she will drag her skirts through the streets in the mud!

—W. H. Morris in New York Ledger.

A WONDERFUL POND.

Human Eyes Are Often Inhabited by Large Numbers of Living Creatures.

The water contained in a well developed, well formed eye in which the sight is not impaired, more especially where a person is farsighted, presents many curious phenomena. Looking through an open window in daylight upon a hazy atmosphere or upon a fog such as is seen in any city, or looking to the north upon a gray atmosphere,
one will see, if conditions are as above,
strange disks flitting and jumping about in the eye water. It has been my privilege to watch these organisms for several years, flitting about in the eye
water, jumping toward each other again in strife and combat, in the which the water would become comparatively clear of amoebiform organisms, only to be again full of micrococci and the combats
as above.

The various shapes of these animal-cules are surprising. Some are attenu-ated, with fine filaments. Again, others are like wee bits of fine porcelain, with little projections, reminding one of turtles hopping about. Again, others present the appearance of cyclops and daphne.

How these organisms get into the eye water is a mystery—perhaps in the water we drink or foods we eat, either or both. The fact that the eye water is inhabited, like all other bodies of water,
is a truth that can be proved positively,
beyond peradventure, by any oculist
when he may extract a diseased eye
and place the fluid under the glass.

May not the accumulation of these organisms in the eye water, their rapid growth and the survival of the fittest or strongest be the cause of much blindness, wherein may be casts, coagulation of the eye water, so called paralysis of
the optic nerve, cataracts and other forms of disease?

May not numerous headaches and other pains be caused by the over-accumulation or growth of these minute organisms, in which they stop the circulation of the active principle of life
in the arterial circulation or the nervous forces? The same organisms are seen when looking upon drawing paper.—

Herald.

in the death of three children. What appeared to be a Roman candle was found near O'Meara's residence by Mamie Benson and two other little girls.
While playing with it one of the children struck it with a piece of iron. It exploded, and the O'Meara child was literally peppered with fragments of brass, lead and glass. The other two children were terribly cut. Several attempts have been made on O'Meara's life heretofore.

Fort Dodge, Ia., Aug. 4.—R. B. Can-field baked two apples in the sun last week. No effort was made to condentrate the heat beyond laying the fruit
on a board where Old Sol's rays hit it fairly without obstruction. It took two days to cook them through, but at the end of that time they were done to a turn. Canfield ate them with cream and sugar. He pronounced the flavor delicious, but he carries an umbrella
now lest he become himself the victim of the heat rays.

Klondyke Risks Are too Hazardous.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The Chicago agent of the Travelers' Insurance company,
of Hartford, Conn., has received instructions from his home office not to insure any person going to the Klondyke region. It is a risk that the company does not desire to take on account of the extreme hazard and because when death takes place the difficulty of obtaining the facts makes settlement of claims too difficult to be practicable.

Wheat Crop of Michigan.

Detroit, Aug. 4.—Gillet & Hall, the veteran grain dealers, in speaking of the new crop, said: "It is coming in slowly, because it is about three weeks late, but is of a very fine quality. The crop will be 25,000,000 bushels, as against 15,000,000 last year. Sixty cars of new wheat came in yesterday, making 150
on the crop. Preparations are now making for a free movement."

Pioneer Wisconsin Man Dead.

Janesville, Wis., Aug. 4.—Frank
Sheldon Lawrence, an early settler of Rock county, died at his home in this city, aged 72 years. He came to Janesville to reside in 1852. He served as clerk in the office of secretary of state from 1860 to 1864, and was a member of the state assembly in 1879-80.

Paid About $2 a Steer.

Nogales, A. T., Aug. 4.—The first importation of American cattle under the Dingley tariff law was made through the custom house here. Six hundred and forty head of steers, the property of E. S. Newman, were brought into this country, the duty being $1.296 over the duties fixed by the Wilson bill.

THE PREVAILING SKIRT.

Tight Gloves and Shoes Not In Taste.
Dressing the Hair.

The skirt of the period is close around the hips, flaring at the foot, especially toward the back, and has no godets in front or at the sides. It varies in cut according to the material employed, its weight and width and the size of the person for whom the skirt is intended. All skirts are ordinarily lined, excepting those of muslin and other transparent, sheer goods,
and also have an inside facing at the foot

DINNER BODICE.

of haircloth or other stiffening. This is diminishing in size and rigidity all the time.
There are also full skirts, Shirred around the hips and mounted at the belt over an underskirt of silk, made quite close and plain.

To have white hands it is necessary to avoid tight gloves, which are not only injurious, but inelegant. Persons of good taste never wear tight gloves or tight shoes. They leave those to servants, whose extremities are characteristically clothed in coverings strained to the bursting point.
No defect in the toilet is more striking than the appearance of a foot crowded into a shoe too small for it, bulging in the wrong places and looking as if it had been forced in by some mechanical process. To return to the care of the hands, real almond meal is excellent for whitening them,
and loose, old gloves should always be worn about the rougher household duties.
One should never go out of doors without gloves on also.

The hair is worn very high, the nape
of the neck being left uncovered. The side hair is waved and arranged in a slightly bouffant style.

A picture is given of a dinner bodice of suede surah. It is close fitting at the back and has a yoke and plastron of light pink surah, shirred under narrow bands of brown velvet. The yoke and plastron are bordered by pink ruffles forming epaulets. Ribbons of brown satin are fastened in front by paste buckles and join the brown satin belt, which is tied behind.
The half length sleeves of suede surah are trimmed with ruffles of pink surah and narrow bands of brown velvet. Bows of brown satin are fastened at the edge of the sleeves by paste buckles. The collar of suede surah is trimmed with pink ruffles.

ON HIS OWN ACCOUNT.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius Investigated the Railway Crossing Case.

WAS HERE THIS FORENOON.

He Took Copious Notes, Asked No Questions, But Kept Diligently at Work.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius came to town this morning and remained a few hours, during which time he occupied himself in looking over the ground and gathering data concerning the proposition of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company to cross the Big Four tracks.

The railroad commissioner was unable to be present when the state board on railroad crossings held their conference here a month ago, and made a personal inspection of the conditions, and he therefore has not had an opportunity to see for himself what the objection may be to granting the new road permission to reach its depot grounds by intersecting the Big Four.

Accompanied by an engineer Mr. Wesselius this morning went over the ground thoroughly, taking measurement here and there, and making frequent entries in a book which he carried in his hip pocket. He made no particular effort to see any of the interested parties and when his work was through he stole quietly out of the city. The result of his investigation, it is expected, will reach the railway officials here in a few days.

Although it is not positive there is a possibility of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus running the first train over its line next Saturday. The company is laying a mile of track today and the remaining eight miles will be laid as soon as the rails arrive, which it is assured, will reach here this week. President Patterson, although hopeful, is not disposed to make any declarations concerning the time the first train will move.

The Big Four railway company is preparing for the construction of an addition of 600 feet to its dock property. The extension will begin at the wing dam and continue westward on a line with the intersection of the north pier and the government dock.

Surveyors have been at work for two days establishing lines, and today the company drove a cluster of piles on the dock line near the West Michigan railway bridge, which marks the commencement of the work.

Work will be commenced at once on the coaling station which the company will establish here.

AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

The Examination of William Burns in Progress.

William Burns, against whom the complaint of attempted murder rests, was taken before Justice Baldrey for a preliminary hearing this morning. Burns, it is remembered, recently forcibly seized little eight-year-old Allen Wilson, of St. Joseph, and dragged him into the under-growth in the rear of Ireland's planing mill where he declared he intended to kill the boy. He had grasped the little fellow by the throat and was tightening his death-like grip when a man passing along heard the struggles and divining the evident purpose of the brute, rushed to the boy's release, who was almost overcome with exhaustion from the vigorous struggles with his assailant. Wilson maintains that he was drunk and now has no remembrance of what is alleged to have occurred. Prosecuting Attorney Valentine is at a loss to understand the motive Burns might have had in desiring to kill the boy, and if he was drunk it would be difficult to prove that there was an intent to murder on his part. There is a possibility of the charge being changed to assault and battery and the man sentenced to a term in the county jail.

One of the most interesting prisoners in the county jail is James Mullen, serving a sentence for drunkenness. His sentence will expire Sept. 25. Mullen is 32 years old and was once an eminent newspaper reporter. He has held positions on several of the leading newspapers of the east and although years of dissipation have marked his features with the brand of vice he is still intelligent looking and an easy conversationalist. He is college bred, and carries an air of aristocracy with him. He is a born artist and his cartoons have appeared in many metropolitan papers. He has a pocket-full of the products of his genius in art and enjoys exhibiting them to callers at the jail. It was intoxicating liquors that lost him his position and dragged him down to a level with the commonest hobo.

A sentence of 15 days in the county jail is the punishment administered by Justice Baldrey to John Ewing who yesterday got drunk and became maliciously mischievous.

The county jail was yesterday visited by a bailiff and guard from the Cook county jail.

The four jail-breakers are still in hiding. No information regarding them has yet been received by the

NO MORE CONCERTS.

Frazell's Military Band Will Quit the Open Air Music.

Frazell's Military band will give no more open air concerts this season.

Six weeks ago the band was organized by the election of disinterested citizens as officers and a canvass of the business part of the city was successful in securing subscriptions to an open air concert fund amounting to between $200 and $300 for the weekly concerts during the month of July, August and September.

August 1, Hart Green, the treasurer and collector of the band, called on the subscribers for their subscriptions for the first month and although six or seven concerts had been given some of the subscribers refused to pay because the concerts were not given in front of their places of business and several who did pay made a kick about one thing or another. The complaints reached the ears of Prof. Frazell and he has declared the band concerts off. The people who paid for the season will have their money refunded.

There are about 25 members in the band. For the seven open air concerts given $30 was collected or $1.20 for each member which is 17 1/2 cents each night for playing about twelve selections.

If Frazell's Military band would break up then Benton Harbor would wake up to an appreciation of what they had.

THE CAR FERRY DEAL.

Doubt Expressed Whether the Monster Ferries Will Ever Come to Benton Harbor Again.

MANY WILD RUMORS AFLOAT.

The Benton Harbor Electric Lives in Hopes of Something Turning Up.

It would not now surprise the people of this city if the car ferries of the Michigan and Wisconsin railroad never made another trip to Benton Harbor.

The ferries left this port on their first trip a week ago and made the run to Peshtigo in less than 18 hours. The program was for the boats to immediately return and make four trips a week. But since they left nothing has been heard from them, except a letter which was received from Big Four officials by Agent Smith stated that the ferries would begin running today. He has received no wire today saying that the boats had started and in consequence does not expect them. There is not a single loaded car awaiting transportation across the lake.

There are many rumors afloat about the ferries that cannot be verified. Among the long list is the report that the company was only working a bluff and never intended to establish a ferry line to the east side of the lake, and that the initial trip was made merely for the purpose of whipping some of the western railroads in line as regards concessions on rates and time.

The offices of the Benton Harbor Electric railway company are open eight or ten hours a day and President Hamilton, Secretary Hollis and Treasurer Davies are busy with a lot of clerical work getting matters in shape for business. They are greatly handicapped by the fact that they are still locked out of their own safe but are preparing to overcome that difficulty. Those in a place to know something of the matter declare that there will be some surprising developments in the affairs of the company before the middle of the month.

Chamberlain Talks of John Bull's New Tariff Policy.

DONE TO PLEASE THE COLONIES,

At the Request of Those Who Are Self-Governing, and with the Purpose of Closer Imperial Relations — Lawson Brings Up the South African Matter and Gives Rhodes a Roast — What France Expects of the United States.

London, Aug. 5.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Chamberlain, answering a question in the house of commons yesterday on the subject of the denunciation by the government of Great Britain of the treaties of commerce with Germany and Belgium, said the denunciation was the unanimous wish of the self-governing colonies, who desire to deal with the United Kingdom on preferential terms. Chamberlain added that at the conference between the colonial premiers and himself a resolution was passed unanimously, the substance being that the premiers of the self-governing colonies heartily recommended the earliest denunciation of the treaties as hampering the trade of Great Britain and her colonies, and that it was accompanied by an important and significant resolution, namely, that in the hope of improving the trade relations between the mother country and the colonies the premiers present undertook to confer with their colleagues as to what result could be secured by a preference given by the colonies to the products of the United Kingdom.

Not a Step Toward Separation.

On the receipt of these instructions, Chamberlain further explained, her majesty's government resolved to immediately withdraw the treaties with Germany and Belgium. The secretary said also that the law officers of the crown were now considering the question whether the resolution of the Canadian parliament infringed these treaties. The Canadian government, Chamberlain added, had asked to be allowed to be represented before the law officers of the crown. This was unusual, the colonial secretary explained, but the request of the government of Canada had been granted. In conclusion Chamberlain assured the house that the action of Canada on this matter was not a step towards separation, but distinctly a movement against separation, the intention being to show gratitude and to prove the loyalty of the colonies.

Another Attack on Rhodes.

The South African policy of the British government was subjected to an attack in the commons by Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Liberal, who also gave Cecil Rhodes a sharp prodding. Calling attention to the attitude of the secretary of state for the colonies, Chamberlain, towards South Africa, Sir Wilfrid classed the latter's policy as being "dangerous and destructive to our reputation abroad." Referring to Cecil Rhodes Sir Wilfrid remarked that the ex-premier of Cape Colony was guilty of "treachery, betrayal of his sovereign, and disloyalty to his colleagues."

Considered a Closed Incident.

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid explained that Rhodes' guilt consisted in "falsely dating a letter which was very like forgery, involving bloodshed, murder and confusion in many parts of the world. Yet all had been endorsed by Mr. Chamberlain, who had placed the house of commons in the degrading position of declaring Mr. Rhodes to be an honorable man, thus making Great Britain the laughing-stock of all nations."

Chamberlain, replying to Sir Wilfrid, declined to reopen "questions which were regarded as settled." He added: "As to submitting disputes with the Transvaal to arbitration it would be an extraordinary course to submit to a foreign tribunal a dispute between a suzerain and a subordinate state."

CHULALONGKORN AT OSBORNE

Siam's King Goes to See Victoria—Visit to London Siams.

Portsmouth, Aug. 5.—King Chulalongkorn and his suite arrived here yesterday from London on his way to visit Queen Victoria at Osborne. His majesty was received at the railroad station by the Prince of Wales. The warships here were decorated with bunting and fired a royal salute as the king proceeded on his way to the Isle of Wight. At Osborne the King of Siam lunched with the queen and later he took tea with the Prince and Princess of Wales on board the royal yacht Osborne.

London, Aug. 5.—The king of Siam, accompanied by the crown prince of Siam, Prince Chowfa Maha Vajiravich, and by Lord Harris, one of her majesty's lords-in-waiting, who is in attendance upon the king during his stay in England, made a surprise visit Tuesday night to an east end institution established for the shelter of the homeless. His majesty was greatly interested in the 300 outcasts occupying bunks in the building and inquired closely into the details of managing such institutions.

FRANCE AND THE DINGLEY ACT.

Will Expect That 20 Per Cent. Tariff Reduction Without Another Treaty.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Gaulois publishes an interview with the minister of commerce, M. Boucher, in which he is quoted as declaring that it "should not for a moment be doubted that President McKinley will spontaneously grant to France 20 per cent. tariff reduction, as permitted by the Dingley bill." Boucher is reported to have added: "It is, of course, only on this condition that France will continue to grant the United States the customs concessions arranged as a quid pro quo for the economic advantages which have now disappeared. In asking for this reduction France will cite the favors accorded to imports from the United States and the liberal legislation enabling American insurance companies to operate in France in competition with the home companies."

KLONDYKE GOLD IS BRITISH,
Statement as to the Boundary Made at the National Capital.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Incited by the newspaper publications recently tending to throw doubt upon the ownership of the Klondyke gold fields, some of the high government officials who would naturally be expected to deal with the question if it comes to a practical issue have been quietly looking into the matter with a view to preparing themselves for any controversy that might arise. Their views are in substance that there can be no valid objection advanced to the title of Great Britain to this territory.

A careful examination of all of the reliable charts and maps made far enough back in date to be free from suspicion of influence of the recent heavy gold finds has convinced these officers that so far as the Klondyke fields, as defined by the latest reports, are concerned there can be no question that they lie east of the 141st meridian, which defines the boundary line, and so are within British territory by about thirty-five miles at least.

As for the meridian itself, it is said that it has been closely located by the surveys of the Canadians and our own coast survey; that there is not at any point a difference of more than 700 feet in the claimed boundary, which of course would not substantially affect any controversy that might grow out of the title.

"WE HOLD THESE TRUTHS"—

Ah, that is, They Are Self-Evident in Some Other Country.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 5.—As the result of the employment of twenty-five negro women in the folding department of the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills yesterday morning, over 1,400 men, women and children have gone on one of the largest strikes that has ever occurred in this city. The mills were forced to shut down their entire plant. When the notice was put up that the mills were closed much disorder broke out, and it was the intention of the strikers at first to cause trouble, but the police reserve force arrived in time to quell any disturbance. The local textile union took the side of the strikers and sent notices to them to hold out for their rights.

When this became known the employees of the mills, all white, walked out. Some of those who quit were the oldest and most reliable employees of the company. Elsas, president of the company, explained that it was only a small affair, and would be arranged in a short time, after which the mills would reopen on full time. The strikers, however, are determined and are receiving the aid of the local unions. Seven years ago the same experiment was tried in working negroes and with the same result.

No Will Contest in This Case.

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 5.—John Walters, one of the earliest settlers of Brown county, and now a resident of Duck Creek, took a novel method of settling his estate. Walters is getting well advanced in years and he called his family of nine children around him and proposed that the estate be divided among them now and thus save future litigation. The plan agreed upon was that the estate should be divided into nine parts of as nearly equal value as possible and that corresponding numbers should be drawn. To this all agreed. The numbers were accordingly thrown into a hat and the drawing progressed good-naturedly to the end, when all declared themselves satisfied.

Died Worth a Couple of Millions.

Rockford, Ills., Aug. 5.—The schedule of the property of the late Judge Benjamin R. Sheldon, of Rockford, shows a total of $1,198,253 in addition to 13,000 acres of improved farming land in eight states and some valuable city property in different localities, the whole amounting to over $2,000,000. Among the bequests which come out of the estate are sums of $10,000 each to the Rockford and Freeport Young Men's Christian association and $10,000 to Williams college.

Electric Storm at Madison, Wis.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 5.—A storm accompanied by a striking electric display awakened many Madison people at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Over 300 telephones of the local company were burned out.

THE EVENING NEWS.

SECOND YEAR—NO. 570.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1897.

ONE CENT.

SPOILED THE DAY.

Rain Interfered With the Young People's Picnic at Berrien Springs Yesterday.

BALLOON FLIGHT A SUCCESS.

Program of Amusements Suffers From the Effect of the Moisture.

Young People's day at Berrien Springs was a disappointment to hundreds of people and especially so to the members of the association who had made elaborate preparations to entertain a big crowd.

From early in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening there were short intervals when rain was not falling, and as a consequence only a few of the farmers and their families were in attendance.

The program which had been arranged for the morning and included a baseball game, was abandoned an account of the rain. In the afternoon short exercises were held in the grove. The Evening News Boys' band opened exercises with a selection followed by prayer. Lee Wilkinson, of St. Joseph, delivered a short address of welcome and introduced the speaker of the day, Rev. Hess, who gave a brief history of the association and spoke at some length on the condition of our country. Mr. Hess is an eloquent speaker and his address was listened to with much interest. He was obliged to make his speech short on account of the rain.

The bicycle races were held on a half mile track opposite the grove. The first was the one mile open with the following entries: Sawyer, Downagie; Jones and Mauer, Niles; Woodward, Osborne and Howard, Benton Harbor. The race was won in the order named in 2:36. The four mile race was entered by the same people with the exception of Howard who refused to ride in the rain which was falling when the race was called. First place was won by Sawyer, second by Jones, third by Mauer and fourth by Woodward. A handicap race had been arranged for but owing to the rain was abandoned.

The foot race was won by Bally of Buchanan.

The balloon ascension made by Prof. Frank Casad was a beautiful exhibition of aerial navigation. The inflation of the big air ship was begun at 5:55 and at 6:20 it was soaring majestically upwards. The professor ascended to a height of 5,000 feet and returned to earth riding the balloon. One thousand feet above the ground he dropped his pet dog out of the basket and dangling from the end of a parachute the dog made a safe return to earth. The balloon is of enormous size. It stands 75 feet high with a diameter of 45 feet.

The ascension was viewed by hundreds of people and was completed so cleverly that Prof. Casad may claim the distinction of being the most daring and successful aeronaut of the many who have performed in this country.

During the day the Berrien Springs band, under the leadership of Director Stowe, furnished good music and much fun. They were dressed as farmers and looked decidedly green.

The Evening News Boys' band played during the day and received merited applause.

Owing to the small number of members of the association present no officers were elected but a committee appointed to name the officers and will report next week.

The Break in the Jail.

Niles Star: St. Joseph must take her oats. That strong jail she bragged so much about has been sawed into and four prisoners went their way. The fellows who sawed loose from the county jail, simply made a test case. The supervisors are not to blame. Evidently the prisoners did not like 30 cents a day rations.

Supreme Court to be Busy With Berrien County Suits.

There are upwards of 15 cases from this county to be heard before the supreme court at its October sitting. Included in the list are the following important cases:

Fyfe vs English, Kelly vs Guy, McIntyre vs Farmers' & Merchants bank, Chaddock vs Tabor, Colby vs Portman, Brower vs Tatro, Bierce & Smith Vale company vs Niles Paper Mill company and Bennett vs Drew.

The law firms appearing in these cases are Valentine & Ellsworth, Plummer & Ridford and Gore & Harvey.

TONIGHT'S BENEFIT.

Fine Theatrical Performance at the Academy of Music.

Tonight at the Academy of Music, St. Joseph, "The Chimney Corner" by Dickens will be presented by a company of artists well equipped in comedy acting. The entertainment will be given for the benefit of Messrs. Mitchell, Welch and Wesner, of the Baker Stock company.

J. A. Simon and his wife are included in the cast, the former carrying the serio-comic part of Peter Proby. This will be the last opportunity Benton Harbor and St. Joseph will have to witness the work of Mr. Simon before he leaves on his starring tour and it should not be lost.

Many interesting specialties will be introduced and an entertainment of rare interest is assured.

season of the year the fruit is making the pit. This is an important function and if a good season is noted during this process of fruit life there will be evidence of it in the fully matured peach. A good, healthy peach pit means a good healthy peach. The indications are now that the fruit will be larger than it has been for several years and that the flavor will be fully sustained. Early sorts are ripening in excellent shape and the size of that which has been marketed shows that the rain, while it has rotted some of the fruit has been of a general benefit. The rot in grape vineyards is noticeable yet the damage will not be so great as it has been reported. The most damage will result from the hail storms that have passed over a portion of the fruit belt during the last ten days.

A POLITICAL COMBINE.

Leading Democrat Says That Bliss and Pingree Have Combined.

J. W. Thorn, of Owosso, the political backer of Wellington R. Burt for the democratic nomination for governor, was in the city last night and engaged in his favorite pastime—talking politics.

"I will tell you what it is, Pingree is the shrewdest politician in the state. He has come out openly against Burrows and will give the junior senator the liveliest kind of a hustle. Pingree has formed an alliance with Colonel Bliss. Bliss you will notice, has invited the governor to Buffalo to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. and Pingree in a very courteous note has accepted. All this means that Bliss will support Pingree next year and a year later Pingree will support Bliss. Colonel Bliss is the biggest man in the Michigan G. A. R. and above everything else he wants to be governor of the state. Watch and see if I am not right."

MICHIGAN SLIGHTED.

She Has Not Her Full Share of the Offices.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—Joseph P. Smith, the new director of the bureau of American republic, has just created a sensation among the office seekers here by publishing a special bulletin containing the personnel of the diplomatic and consular service right up to date. Never before in the history of the government has a diplomatic and consular list been issued that was in any sense a reliable basis for the office seeker to work upon.

The small showing which Michigan makes in the bulletin has attracted the attention of several aspirants for honors in the consular service who want to be sent abroad and charged to the Wolverine state. One patient office seeker in commenting on the new publication said:

"I don't suppose the people of Michigan realize that in the entire diplomatic and consular service, which now numbers a little more than 1,200 places, but eleven Michigan men are provided for, and, with a single exception, these are very modest places. The list shows 101 offices in the diplomatic service, of which Michigan has two—Minister James B. Angell, recently appointed to Turkey, and Mr. McCrae, secretary of the legation at Mexico.

"In the consular service, according to the new bulletin, there are about 1,000 places, of which Michigan has nine, or only about one-third what she is entitled to if taken as an average state in the Union. These places are none of them of special consequence, seven of them being in Canada. W. K. Anderson at Hanover, Germany, is the only representative in all Europe."

THE "NEW WOMAN."

Comes to the Front in Barnum & Bailey's Show.

The "new woman," so-called, comes to the front in the Barnum & Bailey show in fine style. Year by year, while women are usurping what were formerly exclusively masculine commercial lines of business, they are also demonstrating their peculiar capacity for all sorts of professional athletics. Women refuse to be ground down by the iron heel of man even in physical expertness and endurance. They are showing more aptness in acrobatics than the opposite sex. In the great Barnum show this season the women absorb more of the business than ever before. When the first circus woman not a rider made her appearance not many years ago she was billed as a great sensation. Yet she did little else than pose and slide down a wire with a leather strap in her teeth, and her golden hair streaming down her back. Since then women have become distinguished among professional athletics for something more than an iron jaw. The big show illustrates this in a startling way. There are two women ringmasters, two women clowns, a dozen pretty women assistants in knickerbockers, half a dozen women trapezists, as many of the horizontal bars, women jugglers, women tumblers, women wire walkers, women clog dancers, a female-hypnotist of horses, women horse trainers, women pigeon shooters, band leader, contortionists, and the human arrow, or the daring woman who is shot through midair from a cross-bow. Besides these, all of the women bareback riders do acrobatic feats, such as leaping on and off at full gallop, while one woman does the somersault on horseback just the same as the champion male riders of the ring. This is the first time such a feat has ever been attempted by a woman. The biggest woman in the world, over eight feet high, heads the museum of human wonders—wherein also disport feminine snake charmers, women magicians and memory freaks, etc. And there, by the way, is a lifelike representation of the coming man in a midge of 23 inches height. Women in the circus are doing much to destroy the vine and oak theory of the relation of the sexes.

The big show will exhibit in Benton Harbor next Saturday.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

Presbyterians Will Hold One at Pottawatomie.

The Presbyterians Sunday school will give a picnic at Pottawatomie park next Tuesday. Conveyances to the Park will leave the church at 8 o'clock in the morning. Each family is urged to take provisions and while there will be a general coffee and lemonade stand each class will sit at lunch separately. Further arrangements for the picnic will be made next Sunday at which time every pupil of the school is asked to be present.

RESPONSIBILITY HIS ALSO.

Uncle Jimmy Doesn't Advise Mr. Hamilton.

The Niles Star thus speaks as the official organ of Congressman Hamilton:

"The Benton Harbor NEWS rushes into print and claims that Congressman Hamilton will have little to say about the disposition of postoffices in this district, but that Uncle Jas. Monroe of Kalamazoo is the man. This is all bosh. Mr. Monroe has no more to do with it than the editor of the NEWS. Congressman Hamilton has the whole say-so, and don't forget it."

And never seen the office of a daily paper when it was press time and the boys were "short of matter."

The peasant cuts no figure in the bustling world of news.

The reporter is a skirmisher, it's true,

For he fights for fleeting items, and he captures interviews.

But his weapon is a Faber number two.

Now, the journalistic underling, whose pencil marks are black,

Is subservient to a pencil mark of blue, For some high and mighty personage must make a pigeon track

Before a single line of "copy" can go through,

But there's still another color, far above both black and blue.

The man who owns the paper scans it over,

And if the staff needs editing he'll take an ax or two.

And express his personal sentiments in gore.

THE DOGS OF WAR.

On the left of the pup lines of Greek infantry lay on the high, bare hills, firing without intermission. Gray smoke went up and backward from all these lines.

Sometimes wounded men came from there and passed the pup as he sat reflecting in the roadway. Directly in his front a mountain battery of the Greeks was roaring, and the horses and mules of the command were browsing the grass in a sheltered place not far from the pup. Some soldiers lay in an upturned furrow of brown trenches.

If the pup had studied the vast green plain on his right, he would have seen black lines and lines still fainter than black, and these lines were all Turks.

Frequently a crescendo of hoots and hurtling noises was in the air above him, and the shells crashed as they struck. Moreover, there was sometimes a curious singing of great insects. But for all these things the pup did not care.

He was a little pup, not larger than a kitten, but he was fat and fairly smothered in long white wool, marked here and there with black, and he had every indifference of a fat pup. Two soldiers came that way on their return to the front, and, seizing him, paused.

One stooped and offered him gently a bit of hard biscuit, but he had been used to other food, and, with the innocence of babyhood, he scorned the generosity of these men who had stopped under fire to give him assistance. They laughed then and stroked his long hair and went away to their business.

The pup's interest was always the thing directly under his nose. He was really in the battle of Velestino, but what he wanted to do was to waddle in his curious way among the stones of the roadway and smell at them and fall over them whenever he forgot that he was too heavy. Although he was not larger than a cake of soap he had something elephantine in his movement. His little legs were still very weak, and he sprawled and straddled over the road in a way that one would expect of a baby elephant.

Once a cavalryman with orders galloped past him, and a hoof of the gray charger missed him by a little, but he didn't care for that either. He was busy with his geological survey.

The Examiner correspondent came along from the firing line at that time and stopped when he saw the dog. The dog had been trying to scratch his near ear with his off hind leg, but he stopped when he saw the Examiner correspondent.

They looked at each other in reflective silence. The pup had a crafty eye, and he put his head on one side and surveyed the correspondent with much attention to detail. Another shell came close then, and your correspondent said, "Come on, pup." He took the pup in his arms.

The dog was naturally named Velestino at once. There was a thought in the correspondent's mind of calling him Loot. But then he was not really loot.

He was simply a Greek pup deserted by his relatives and friends in a most trying hour, who had accepted the assistance of a correspondent of The Examiner.

His home had probably been in one of the stone huts that stood here and there along the road, now all lonely. His owners had probably scuttled out at word of the coming of the Turks.

But he didn't care about this either. He simply lolled on the correspondent's arm and blinked fatly at the passing landscape.

When the correspondent arrived where his horses awaited him, he gave the pup Velestino into the hands of his Greek boy and stood and admonished him sternly for five minutes about the inadvisability of losing that pup. The boy grinned and took Velestino in his arms.

There were dispatches to be sent, and the wires were muddled in a way that was simply scandalous. The correspondent left for Athens, reflecting from time to time upon the virtues of his lost pup.

Volo is ordinarily 800,000 miles from Athens. In time of war it is the square of 800,000. Every route is impossible. All the steamers are on war business. All the carriages have vanished. There are no horses. It requires more energy to travel now in Greece than it does to do a three months' campaign. The correspondent struggled as far as Chalkis with phenomenal good fortune. He was taking his breakfast in the restaurant there when he observed a peasant come in and walk toward the rear of the place. This man had a pup inside his shirt, and the little woolly head project. The correspondent said to his dragoon, "That is my dog." The dragoon laughed. "There are 1,000,000 dogs like that in Greece, sir."

"No, there ain't. I tell you that is my dog."

As the peasant with the pup disappeared through a door in the rear the correspondent and the dragoon rushed after him. In a courtyard they found the peasant delivering the pup to another dragoon, the servant of an English correspondent, but the correspondent took the pup. "It is my dog."

"No, it isn't," said the dragoon of the English correspondent. "I got him at Volo."

"You got him at Volo, did you? Well, I got him at Velestino. He belongs to the San Francisco Examiner, and it doesn't matter what you say, you can't have him."

"Well!"

"Shut up!"

"Well, he has cost me two drams for his food and care. Pay me that and it is all right."

Velestino thus rejoined the correspondent. His hotel bills were paid, and he was invited to some bread and milk. The rounds he fought with his bread and milk were simply too exciting for words. He was not satisfied with putting all of his features in the plate. He waded up to his knees, and his subsequent cargo was altogether out of proportion to his displacement. His shape became suddenly like that of a toy balloon, but it filled him with a sort of glad satisfaction, which was noticeable in his tipy sailor walk.

On his way to Athens the pup received constant ovations. The Greek boy was on the box, and he elaborated his own experiences and, incidentally, the experiences of the pup. People gazed at Velestino with awe. He was such a wee thing that the correspondent was not sure whether he was going to grow to be a cow or a caterpillar, but the kilted mountaineers that studied him said that he was of the famous shepherd dog breed of the Greeks and was destined to be a big dog.

"Wait until he grows," they said, "and then if even 100 bad men approach your house you need not fear."

Looking at Velestino, asleep in a fluffy ball in the carriage, the correspondent rather thought that the number of bad men was over the limit.

At Thebes, while the correspondent lunched, Velestino waddled, or rather fell, around the floor of the cafe. The boys of the village congregated about him, and the Greek child, who thought he had been almost killed, dilated on the experiences of himself and the dog.

All these popular honors the pup accepted with his usual sublime indifference. He interested himself in certain surprising physical eccentricities. For instance, every time he tried to run he fell on his nose. When he tried to catch his tail, he fell on his shoulder.

In fact, he was so much of a pup that he could fall in almost any direction with equal abandon. These maneuvers were also conducted without regard to the interest and admiration of the populace.

People do not usually talk about dogs, and so, before he reached Athens, he was easily the most famous dog in Greece. In Athens itself he was put up at the best hotel, and the honors he received befitting his social position.

At present he is with your correspondent. He has a personal attendant engaged at a fabulous salary. He is well known here already, and his appearance on the street causes popular demonstration. But he doesn't care.

—Stephen Crane in San Francisco Chronicle.

Forecasting the Progress of Invention.

There is another direction in which the airship would be seriously defective, and that is almost always overlooked, and that is in the matter of making landings. Being a large body, it would necessarily be unwieldy, and its motion in any direction could not be arrested in a very short space of time; therefore it could not make a landing within a limited area. In a dead calm it could probably be lowered in nearly a vertical line and thus make a landing in a contracted space, but if the wind were blowing even at a moderate velocity the case would be different. As the wind is always blowing more or less, and as it frequently changes its course in a few seconds, the ship would be tossed about quite lively before it reached the ground.

If it came down at the rate of 300 feet per minute, which is a high velocity, and the wind were blowing at the rate of ten miles per hour, the side drift would be three times as great as the vertical descent, and if this were counteracted by imparting a velocity to the ship equal to that of the wind and opposed to it the side drift would be doubled if the direction of the wind should suddenly reverse. It must therefore be evident that to be able to make a landing safely, without running the risk of colliding with church steeples and modern skyscrapers, it would be necessary to have a large open space.

Late that night in Volo a knock came to the correspondent's door, and as he called out it opened, and the Greek boy appeared, with a bow and a grin.

"Where is the pup?" said the correspondent instantly.

The Greek boy had brought a large case of shell which he said had almost killed him, and he exhibited it proudly.

"Where is the pup?"

The boy said he was sure he was going to be killed when he heard the shell, and he now considered his escape to be imminent. The correspondent arose impulsively to his feet. "Where is the

UNION AGAIN

to Restraining the West Virginia Strike Leaders.

SWEEPING ORDER BY THE JUDGE.

Covers Everything That the Strikers Can Possibly Do and Is Issued by a United States Court—Why Pittsburgh Coal Operators Are Not Trying to Run Their Mines—How Things Are Going with the Siege of the De Armit Workings.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 5.—On the application of James Sloan, Jr., of Baltimore, a stockholder in the Monongah Coke and Coal company, made by ex-Governor Fleming, his counsel, Judge Jackson in the United States court yesterday afternoon, granted a sweeping injunction restraining Eugene V. Debs and his associates from in any way interfering with or molesting the management or the conducting of the property of the Monongah Coke and Coal company, or its employees, either by trespassing upon the property of the company or approaching thereto, or inciting its employees to strike, or interfering in any manner whatever, either by word or deed, in the company's affairs. The text of the writ covers everything that can possibly be construed into an infringement of rights of corporations, and practically prevents all future agitation in the vicinity of the Monongah mines.

Pittsburgh Operators Are Quiescent.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 5.—One of the notable features of the strike of the miners has been the absence of effort by the operators to get their miners to work. There has been no meeting by them to consider the situation, nor have there been any attempts to start mines with new men. This was explained yesterday by an operator, who said he is satisfied to have the strike continue until January, as he has enough coal to last him, or can get it at prices which will enable him to make profit. The lower river markets are reported to be well stocked with Pittsburgh coal, and by reason of almost continuous navigation from January until July large stocks have been accumulated in the New Orleans, Louisville and Cincinnati markets, and no coal boat stage of water can be expected now before November. Some of the rail operators have plenty of coal, one producer claiming to have not less than 200,000 tons available for his contracts, and others can buy coal at a price almost as low as they can produce it. Ruling prices are 75 cents, free on board cars at shipping point, for "run of the mine," and $1.25 for screened coal.

Hearings of Riot Cases.

At the hearing in the case of President Dolan and others for riot and unlawful assemblage yesterday afternoon before Justice Slemmons, a number of witnesses were heard, but the justice reserved his decision until this afternoon. The hearing of the four miners arrested last week at the McGovern mines near Canonsburg for trespass was concluded yesterday afternoon. No evidence connecting the defendants directly with the song "We'll Hang Blacksheep to a Sour Apple Tree," or with the use of opprobrious epithets was produced. None of the defendants appeared at the hearing, and they were held in contempt. Attachments were issued for their arrest.

Warner's Compliments to De Armit.

Secretary Warner paid his compliments to President De Armit, of the New York and Cleveland company, in no very choice terms. The reason for this was the publication of a story that De Armit had said that $10,000 had been sent into the Pittsburgh district by the West Virginia operators, in order to bring about a strike of the miners in that district, and thus force the price of coal up. Both the secretary and President M. P. Carrick, of the Painters and Decorators, characterized the story as a canard, and said that if it were true they would hardly send organizers into that district to induce the men to strike, if possible. Organizer Cameron Miller is arranging for a meeting of business men and miners to take place at Roscoe, in the fourth pool, at 1 p. m. today. He expects about 1,800 men will be in attendance, coming from all the mines in the fourth pool, from Dunlevy to California. The meeting will be addressed by Dolan and Miller.

BIG OPEN AIR DEMONSTRATION.

Will Be Held at Pittsburgh to Advocate Freedom of Speech.

Arrangements have been completed for the open air demonstration under the auspices of the United Labor League of western Pennsylvania this evening on the Duquesne wharf in the interest of the striking miners. The leaders expect 20,000 people to attend. They are urging everybody to attend to show by their presence that they are in favor of free speech and the right of peaceful assemblage. The speakers will talk from a wagon. The meeting will be addressed by Eugene V. Debs; Mrs. Mary Jones, of Chicago; M. M. Garland, president, and W. A. Carney, vice-president of the Amalgamated Association, United Mine Workers; Organizer Cameron Miller; M. P. Carrick, national president of the Painters' and Decorators' union, and M. J. Coughlin, national secretary of the Plumbers' union.

After the addresses an appeal will be made to the audience for financial assistance for the striking miners, and the leaders expect that the results will show that the public is in hearty sympathy with the miners in their struggle for living wages. The miners claim that if they can only get a little more financial assistance they will easily win the strike, and are straining every nerve to accomplish their end. The miners at the Schmoeck mines on the Redstone branch of the Pennsylvania railroad came out again yesterday and the mines are closed down. This intelligence caused the price of coal to jump from 75 to $1 a ton and brokers say there will probably be another advance to $1.50 a ton before the end of the next week.

Illinois Miners Get a Raise.

Marion, Ills., Aug. 5.—The miners at the mines of the Ohio and Mississippi Valley Coal and Mining company struck yesterday morning and demanded a raise of 10 cents per ton for digging and 15 cents per ton for driving. The miners' demand was rejected, and the miners have now withdrawn all work.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 5.—The miners at Cincinnati joined the strikers yesterday, and marched on Mound City, Mo., to get the men out there. About half the miners in the Centerville district are working with half the men out.

Both Sides Claim a Victory.

Milwaukee, Aug. 5.—The Illinois Steel company last night signed the amalgamated scale regulating work in the top and bottom mill. The conference with committee of finishers lasted until last evening. One hundred men returned to work in this mill this morning. The other departments, with the exception of the new reduction mill, will remain idle for an indefinite period. Both sides claim a victory. The men concede a 15 per cent. reduction in the wages of rollers, heaters, roughers and helpers, and the company conceded that the men work under tonnage scale instead of by the day.

Work on a New Shaft Stopped.

Kewanee, Ills., Aug. 5.—One hundred coal miners from Gilchrist and Galva were here last night and held a private meeting with the miners of this place. A new shaft is being opened up here, and while no coal is being shipped and very little taken out the object of the visit of these miners from our neighboring towns seems to be for the purpose of stopping all work. While the management of the shaft offers to ship no coal to other points, it looks at present as if the miners will all remain out.

Eviction of Strikers Begun.

California, Pa., Aug. 5.—The Chamoni miners received their first experience of strike hardships yesterday. A force of deputies from Uniontown was busy all day evicting tenants from company houses. Some of the men who were put out claim that they had paid rent a month in advance. The Little Bill steamer is expected to arrive with a large load of men to take the places of the striking miners.

DR. ANDREWS AND HIS VIEWS.

Representative Walker Says He Is Unsound on Various Questions.

New Hampton, N. H., Aug. 5.—Representative Joseph H. Walker, of Worcester, who is a member of the board of trustees of Brown university and to whose opposition to the public utterances of President Andrews on the subject of free silver the recent resignation of Dr. Andrews is attributed, stated yesterday that he personally started the trouble at Brown university at a meeting of the corporation of the university last June. This was done because the utterances of President Andrews were at variance with the views of the corporation on the question of a national financial policy.

Walker said: "Nothing was said or done at the meeting of the trustees of the university in June that was not clearly within the line of duty upon the part of every member of the board, and everything was said and done with a feeling of the warmest friendship for Dr. Andrews." In turning from the corporation, every one of whom was his friend, to the public and taking the position he has "I cannot see how, by any possibility, the relations which must necessarily exist between the president of the university and the corporation can be re-established."

Walker declared, in closing the interview, that Dr. Andrews has taught other things than silver which were thought to be detrimental to the progress of the university. His position upon the wage question, Walker said, is bad.

THE ROWDY NATIONAL GAME.

Two Pretty Incidents During the League Games Played Yesterday.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—There were two cases of rowdyism at National League base ball games yesterday. At Cincinnati Umpire Hurst had given the Reds the worst of a decision and an irate rooter rolled a beer glass into the diamond. Umpire Hurst picked up the glass and threw it into the rooter's row and hit John Cartuyvelles over the right eye, inflicting a serious wound. A patrol wagon was immediately called and Hurst was arrested, charged with assault and battery. At Louisville Burkett, of the Cleveland club, called Umpire Wolf a vile name and was ordered out of the game. Captain Tebeau refused to put a man in to bat for Burkett and after waiting five minutes Wolf gave the game to Louisville, 9 to 0. In the ninth inning of the second game Burkett again insulted Umpire Wolf and was ordered out of the game. He refused to leave first base and the umpire called two policemen and the Indians' tough left-fielder was forcibly ejected from the grounds.

Scores on the Ball Field.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—League base ball records yesterday were: At Brooklyn—Washington 1, Brooklyn 2; at Chicago—St. Louis 13, Chicago 12; at Louisville—First game given to Louisville because of Cleveland's rowdyism; (second game) Cleveland 4, Louisville 7; at Cincinnati—Pittsburgh 3, Cincinnati 4; (second game) Pittsburgh 4, Cincinnati 4—six innings, darkness.

The New Woman Is Coming On.

Middlesborough, Ky., Aug. 5.—News reached here last night that Mrs. Lee Coombs, a prominent and wealthy lady of Clay county, shot and killed Miss Sallie Hooker, a belle of Clay county. The tragedy took place at the Coombs residence. It appears Mrs. Coombs left her home saying she would be gone all day. She changed her mind, however, and returned. Upon entering her home she caught her husband and Miss Hooker in a compromising position and the shooting followed.

A FAMOUS BAKERY.

How the Bolland's Became Cakemakers For the Royal Family.

In one of the old buildings which bear the architectural imprint of Queen Anne's time in Chester, England, is a bakeshop—not an ordinary bakeshop, for the royal arms jut out from the second story, and immediately above is a sign bearing the name "Bolland's." And the proximity of the sign to the royal arms is no idle commercial myth to insure new customers.

In the annals of the tradesfolk of Chester there never was a greater man than Richard Bolland, the original owner of the bakeshop. In 1836 the Duchess of Kent and her young daughter, the Princess Victoria, visited the city for the purpose of officially opening a new bridge that was to bring all kinds of importance and prosperity to the town. Of course it was an immense event for Chester, and every one did something to make the visit of the great folks memorable.

Richard Bolland was ambitious, but poor, and he chanced his brains mightily to devise some attractive method of showing his loyal appreciation of the visit. In a happy moment he decided to make some small cakes of transcendent excellence, put them in a fancy box and present them to the young princess.

Happy thought! Potent cakes! Great Bolland!

The next year the little princess, whose palate had been enchanted by the flavor of the Chester cakes, became queen of England, and one of the first acts after her accession in 1837 was the appointment of Bolland as one of the queen's warrant holders. So much for the power of a box of small cakes.

How long the flavor of those cakes lingered in the royal memory is shown by the fact that 25 years later, when the Prince of Wales was to be married, Victoria gave a commission to Bolland to prepare the wedding cake for that great event. It was no ordinary wedding cake that Mr. Bolland produced either, and its exhibition earned him such tremendous fame that every English bride of wealth and prominence who has married since then has had the Chester baker prepare her wedding cake.

Descendants of the original Bolland now conduct the shop, but they use the same recipe that proved so successful in the days of Victoria's childhood, and still bake cakes for the royal family.—Philadelphia Press.

The Lepre and the Flagstone.

One of the principal legends connected with St. Patrick's altar stone, according to a writer in Donahoe's Magazine, is called the "Legend of the Lepre and the Flagstone." This story runs as follows: When St. Patrick was embarking for Ireland to enter upon his mission, a poor leper came to the seashore just as the ship was about to weigh anchor and earnestly begged to be taken on board. It is probable that he had heard something of the holiness of the saint and the proofs of divine favor conferred upon him, and that deep within his inner consciousness there was born a hope, vague at first, but gradually growing stronger, that in the company of St. Patrick he might expect some amelioration of his pitiable condition. Something in the man appealed to the saint, who was so deeply touched by his pleadings that he expressed a wish to have the despised leper taken on board, but fear and prejudice had such an influence over the sailors that they would not allow the leper on board, and the ship began to move out while the afflicted man continued to plead from the beach. The saint took his altar stone and cast it on the water within reach of the leper, telling him to sit on it and remain perfectly quiet. Again was the faith of the man shown, and as soon as he had seated himself the stone began to move over the water. It followed immediately in the wake of the ship until it reached the harbor of Wicklow, and the leper thus reached the shores of Erin in safety. St. Patrick again took possession of the stone.

Persons whose eyes are troublesome should never read in bed. The eyes should be bathed morning and night with water as hot as can be borne, and all fine needle-work should be avoided. Sewing is worse than reading or writing if the sight is at all fatigued or impaired.

The best remedy for obesity is a system of diet and exercise, for it is a system entirely devoid of danger and does not depend for success upon the use of chemicals and violent drugs. It is necessary, however, that the regime of reduction should be faithfully and uninterruptedly followed, and it requires more time and patience than many persons are willing to give. Little food should be taken, no more than is absolutely necessary to health and comfort, and all fatmaking and sweet foods should be entirely avoided. Walking, bicycling, horseback exercise, swimming and gymnastics should be indulged in as much as possible, and the activity of all the functions should be carefully maintained.

An illustration is given of a bolero cape, the body of which is of black satin, trimmed in front and behind with jet fringe. The cape sleeves consist of two very full flounces of embroidered black mouseline de sole. Around the neck is a large, thick ruche of black mouseline de sole, closed by coquilles and a large bow of black satin ribbon. The hat of water green straw is trimmed with pink roses and ears of green taffeta.

Yellowstone Lake.

"There is an individuality about lakes. Perhaps the most striking thing about Yellowstone lake is its high altitude. It is up among the mountains and clouds in Yellowstone park nearly a mile and a half—7,741 feet—above where the sportive summer girl sits on the beach at the Atlantic ocean while the lazy wavelets ripple about her dainty toes. But as high as it is the mountains rise higher still by thousands of feet. In a solemn, owl-like fashion they blink down at the lake, and the lake blinks back at them. These mountains are well defined peaks, and cones, and turrets, and nearly all are named. Some of them are in this way redolent of the old explorers, the men who first braved the perils and difficulties of an unknown, untraversed wilderness. Such are Colter peak and Mount Doane."

The above is taken from "Wonderland '97," a beautiful new Tourist book published by the Northern Pacific railway. It will be mailed to any address upon receipt of six cents in stamps by CHAS. S. FEE, Gen'l Pass. agent, St. Paul, Minn.

ON HIS OWN ACCOUNT.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius Investigated the Railway Crossing Case.

WAS HERE THIS FORENOON.

He Took Copious Notes, Asked No Questions, But Kept Diligently at Work.

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius came to town this morning and remained a few hours, during which time he occupied himself in looking over the ground and gathering data concerning the proposition of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway company to cross the Big Four tracks.

The railroad commissioner was unable to be present when the state board on railroad crossings held their conference here a month ago, and made a personal inspection of the conditions, and he therefore has not had an opportunity to see for himself what the objection may be to granting the new road permission to reach its depot grounds by intersecting the Big Four.

Accompanied by an engineer Mr. Wesselius this morning went over the ground thoroughly, taking measurement here and there, and making frequent entries in a book which he carried in his hip pocket. He made no particular effort to see any of the interested parties and when his work was through he stole quietly out of the city. The result of his investigation, it is expected, will reach the railway officials here in a few days.

Although it is not positive there is a possibility of the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus running the first train over its line next Saturday. The company is laying a mile of track today and the remaining eight miles will be laid as soon as the rails arrive, which it is assured, will reach here this week. President Patterton, although hopeful, is not disposed to make any declarations concerning the time the first train will move.

The Big Four railway company is preparing for the construction of an addition of 600 feet to its dock property. The extension will begin at the wing dam and continue westward on a line with the intersection of the north pier and the government dock.

Surveyors have been at work for two days establishing lines, and today the company drove a cluster of piles on the dock line near the West Michigan railway bridge, which marks the commencement of the work.

Work will be commenced at once on the coaling station which the company will establish here.

AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

The Examination of William Burns in Progress.

William Burns, against whom the complaint of attempted murder rests, was taken before Justice Baldrey for a preliminary hearing this morning. Burns, it is remembered, recently forcibly seized little eight-year-old Allen Wilson, of St. Joseph, and dragged him into the under-growth in the rear of Ireland's planing mill where he declared he intended to kill the boy. He had grasped the little fellow by the throat and was tightening his death-like grip when a man passing along heard the struggles and divining the evident purpose of the brute, rushed to the boy's release, who was almost overcome with exhaustion from the vigorous struggles with his assailant. Wilson maintains that he was drunk and now has no remembrance of what is alleged to have occurred. Prosecuting Attorney Valentine is at a loss to understand the motive Burns might have had in desiring to kill the boy and if he was drunk it would be difficult to prove that there was an intent to murder on his part. There is a possibility of the charge being changed to assault and battery and the man sentenced to a term in the county jail.

One of the most interesting prisoners in the county jail is James Mullen, serving a sentence for drunkenness. His sentence will expire Sept. 25. Mullen is 32 years old and was once an eminent newspaper reporter. He has held positions on several of the leading newspapers of the east and although years of dissipation have marked his features with the brand of vice he is still intelligent looking and an easy conversationalist. He is college bred, and carries an air of aristocracy with him. He is a born artist and his cartoons have appeared in many metropolitan papers. He has a pocket-full of the products of his genius in art and enjoys exhibiting them to callers at the jail. It was intoxicating liquors that lost him his position and dragged him down to a level with the commonest hooligan.

A sentence of 15 days in the county jail is the punishment administered by Justice Baldrey to John Ewing who yesterday got drunk and became maliciously mischievous.

The county jail was yesterday visited by a bailiff and guard from the Cook county jail.

The four jail-breakers are still in hiding. No information regarding them has yet been received by the

NO MORE CONCERTS.

Frazell's Military Band Will Quit the Open Air Music.

Frazell's Military band will give no more open air concerts this season.

Six weeks ago the band was organized by the election of disinterested citizens as officers and a canvass of the business part of the city was successful in securing subscriptions to an open air concert fund amounting to between $200 and $300 for the weekly concerts during the month of July, August and September.

August 1, Hart Green, the treasurer and collector of the band, called on the subscribers for their subscriptions for the first month and although six or seven concerts had been given some of the subscribers refused to pay because the concerts were not given in front of their places of business and several who did pay made a kick about one thing or another. The complaints reached the ears of Prof. Frazell and he has declared the band concerts off. The people who paid for the season will have their money refunded.

There are about 25 members in the band. For the seven open air concerts given $30 was collected or $1.20 for each member which is 17 1/7 cents each night for playing about twelve selections.

If Frazell's Military band would break up then Benton Harbor would wake up to an appreciation of what they had.

THE CAR FERRY DEAL.

Doubt Expressed Whether the Monster Ferries Will Ever Come to Benton Harbor Again.

MANY WILD RUMORS AFLOAT.

The Benton Harbor Electric Lives in Hopes of Something Turning Up.

It would not now surprise the people of this city if the car ferries of the Michigan and Wisconsin railroad never made another trip to Benton Harbor.

The ferries left this port on their first trip a week ago and made the run to Peotigo in less than 18 hours. The program was for the boats to immediately return and make four trips a week. But since they left nothing has been heard from them, except a letter which was received from Big Four officials by Agent Smith that the ferries would begin running today. He has received no wire today saying that the boats had started and in consequence does not expect them. There is not a single loaded car awaiting transportation across the lake.

There are many rumors afloat about the ferries that cannot be verified. Among the long list is the report that the company was only working a bluff and never intended to establish a ferry line to the east side of the lake, and that the initial trip was made merely for the purpose of whipping some of the western railroads in line as regards concessions on rates and time.

The offices of the Benton Harbor Electric railway company are open eight or ten hours a day and President Hamilton, Secretary Hollis and Treasurer Davies are busy with a lot of clerical work getting matters in shape for business. They are greatly handicapped by the fact that they are still locked out of their own safe but are preparing to overcome that difficulty. Those in a place to know something of the matter declare that there will be some surprising developments in the affairs of the company before the middle of the month.

Dead Sparrows His Tip.

Fred Benedict, the electric light trimmer at Niles, has a little side business that is paying him quite well. Every day when he trims the lamps he searches the hoods, and never fails to secure from one to half a dozen sparrows from each lamp. Recently he turned over $60 to the city clerk.

MOVE TO LONDON

Chamberlain Talks of John Bull's New Tariff Policy.

DONE TO PLEASE THE COLONIES

At the Request of Those Who Are Self-Governing, and with the Purpose of Closer Imperial Relations — Lawson Bring Up the South African Matter and Gives Rhodes a Hand — What France Expects of the United States.

London, Aug. 5.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Chamberlain, answering a question in the house of commons yesterday on the subject of the denunciation by the government of Great Britain of the treaties of commerce with Germany and Belgium, said the denunciation was the unanimous wish of the self-governing colonies, who desire to deal with the United Kingdom on preferential terms. Chamberlain added that at the conference between the colonial premiers and himself a resolution was passed unanimously, the substance being that the premiers of the self-governing colonies heartily recommended the earliest denunciation of the treaties as hampering the trade of Great Britain and her colonies, and that it was accompanied by an important and significant resolution, namely, that in the hope of improving the trade relations between the mother country and the colonies the premiers present undertook to confer with their colleagues as to what result could be secured by a preference given by the colonies to the products of the United Kingdom.

Not a Step Toward Separation.

On the receipt of these instructions, Chamberlain further explained, her majesty's government resolved to immediately withdraw the treaties with Germany and Belgium. The secretary said also that the law officers of the crown were now considering the question whether the resolution of the Canadian parliament infringed these treaties. The Canadian government, Chamberlain added, has asked to be allowed to be represented before the law officers of the crown. This was unusual, the colonial secretary explained, but the request of the government of Canada had been granted. In conclusion Chamberlain assured the house that the action of Canada on this matter was not a step towards separation, but distinctly a movement against separation, the intention being to show gratitude and to prove the loyalty of the colonies.

Another Attack on Rhodes.

The South African policy of the British government was subjected to an attack in the commons by Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Liberal, who also gave Cecil Rhodes a sharp prodding. Calling attention to the attitude of the secretary of state for the colonies, Chamberlain, towards South Africa, Sir Wilfrid classed the latter's policy as being "dangerous and destructive to our reputation abroad." Referring to Cecil Rhodes Sir Wilfrid remarked that the ex-premier of Cape Colony was guilty of "treachery, betrayal of his sovereign, and disloyalty to his colleagues."

Considered a Closed Incident.

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid explained that Rhodes' guilt consisted in "falsely dating a letter which was very like forgery, involving bloodshed, murder and confusion in many parts of the world. Yet all had been indorsed by Mr. Chamberlain, who had placed the house of commons in the degrading position of declaring Mr. Rhodes to be an honorable man, thus making Great Britain the laughing-stock of all nations."

Chamberlain, replying to Sir Wilfrid, declined to reopen "questions which were regarded as settled." He added: "As to submitting disputes with the Transvaal to arbitration it would be an extraordinary course to submit to a foreign tribunal a dispute between a suzerain and a subordinate state."

CHULALONGKORN AT OSBORNE

Siam's King Goes to See Victoria—Visit to London Siam.

Portsmouth, Aug. 5.—King Chulalongkorn and his suite arrived here yesterday from London on his way to visit Queen Victoria at Osborne. His majesty was received at the railroad station by the Prince of Wales. The warships here were decorated with bunting and fired a royal salute as the king proceeded on his way to the Isle of Wight. At Osborne the King of Siam lunched with the queen and later he took tea with the Prince and Princess of Wales on board the royal yacht Osborne.

London, Aug. 5.—The king of Siam, accompanied by the crown prince of Siam, Prince Chowfa Maha Vajiravich, and by Lord Harris, one of her majesty's lords-in-waiting, who is in attendance upon the king during his stay in England, made a surprise visit Tuesday night to an east end institution established for the shelter of the homeless. His majesty was greatly interested in the 300 outcasts occupying bunks in the building and inquired closely into all the details of managing such institutions.

FRANCE AND THE DINGLEY ACT.

Will Expect That 20 Per Cent. Tariff Reduction Without Another Treaty.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Gaulois publishes an interview with the minister of commerce, M. Boucher, in which he is quoted as declaring that it "should not for a moment be doubted that President McKinley will spontaneously grant to France 20 per cent. tariff reduction, as permitted by the Dingley bill." Boucher is reported to have added: "It is, of course, only on this condition that France will continue to grant the United States the customs concessions arranged as a quid pro quo for the economic advantages which have now disappeared. In asking for this reduction France will cite the favors accorded to imports from the United States and the liberal legislation enabling American insurance companies to operate in France in competition with the home companies."

THE EVENING NEWS.

SECOND YEAR—NO. 570.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1897.

ONE CENT.

SPOILED THE DAY.

Rain Interfered With the Young People's Picnic at Berrien Springs Yesterday.

BALLOON FLIGHT A SUCCESS.

Program of Amusements Suffers From the Effect of the Moisture.

Young People's day at Berrien Springs was a disappointment to hundreds of people and especially so to the members of the association who had made elaborate preparations to entertain a big crowd.

From early in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening there were short intervals when rain was not falling, and as a consequence only a few of the farmers and their families were in attendance.

The program which had been arranged for the morning and included a baseball game, was abandoned an account of the rain. In the afternoon short exercises were held in the grove. The Evening News Boys' band opened exercises with selection followed by prayer. Lee Wilkinson, of St. Joseph, delivered a short address of welcome and introduced the speaker of the day, Rev. Hess, who gave a brief history of the association and spoke at some length on the condition of our country. Mr. Hess is an eloquent speaker and his address was listened to with much interest. He was obliged to make his speech short on account of the rain.

The bicycle races were held on a half mile track opposite the grove. The first was the one mile open with the following entries: Sawyer, Dowagiac, Jones and Mauer, Niles, Woodward, Osborne and Howard, Benton Harbor. The race was won in the order named in 2:36. The four mile race was entered by the same people with the exception of Howard who refused to ride in the rain which was falling when the race was called. First place was won by Sawyer, second by Jones, third by Mauer and fourth by Woodward. A handicap race had been arranged for but owing to the rain was abandoned.

The foot race was won by Baily of Buchanan.

The balloon ascension made by Prof. Frank Casad was a beautiful exhibition of aerial navigation. The inflation of the big air ship was begun at 5:55 and at 6:20 it was soaring majestically upwards. The professor ascended to a height of 5,000 feet and returned to earth riding the balloon. One thousand feet above the ground he dropped his pet dog out of the basket and dangling from the end of a parachute the dog made a safe return to earth. The balloon is of enormous size. It stands 75 feet high with a diameter of 45 feet.

The ascension was viewed by hundreds of people and was completed so cleverly that Prof. Casad may claim the distinction of being the most daring and successful aeronaut of the many who have performed in this country.

During the day the Berrien Springs band, under the leadership of Director Stowe, furnished good music and much fun. They were dressed as farmers and looked decidedly green.

The Evening News Boys' band played during the day and received merited applause.

Owing to the small number of members of the association present no officers were elected but a committee appointed to name the officers and will report next week.

The Break in the Jail.

Niles Star: St. Joseph must take her oats. That strong jail she bragged so much about has been sawed into and four prisoners went their way. The fellows who sawed loose from the county jail, simply made a test case. The supervisors are not to blame. Evidently the prisoners did not like 30 cents a day rations.

Off for Klondike.

Berrien Springs Era: Del Maraton, of Niles, is to start for Klondike in a few days. He is a son of W. H. Maraton, formerly register of deeds of this county.

New Michigan Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—Yesterday's Michigan postmasters: Elba, Lapeer county, Bertha Winship, vice Chas. Allen, removed; Fawn River, St. Joseph county, A. J. Shaffer, vice D. S. BIG BATCH OF CASES.

Supreme Court to be Busy With Berrien County Suits.

There are upwards of 15 cases from this county to be heard before the supreme court at its October sitting. Included in the list are the following important cases:

Fyfe vs English, Kelly vs Guy, McIntyre vs Farmers' & Merchants bank, Chaddock vs Tabor, Colby vs Portman, Brower vs Tatro, Bierce & Smith Vale company vs Niles Paper Mill company and Bennett vs Drew.

The law firms appearing in these cases are Valentine & Ellsworth, Plumer & Ridford and Gore & Harvey.

TONIGHT'S BENEFIT.

Fine Theatrical Performance at the Academy of Music.

Tonight at the Academy of Music, St. Joseph, "The Chimney Corner" by Dickens will be presented by a company of artists well equipped in comedy acting. The entertainment will be given for the benefit of Messrs. Mitchell, Welch and Wesner, of the Baker Stock company.

J. A. Simon and his wife are included in the cast, the former carrying the serio-comic part of Peter Proby. This will be the last opportunity Benton Harbor and St. Joseph will have to witness the work of Mr. Simon before he leaves on his starring tour and it should not be lost.

Many interesting specialties will be introduced and an entertainment of rare interest is assured.

NEW YORK PEACH CROP.

season of the year the fruit is making the pit. This is an important function and if a good season is noted during this process of fruit life there will be evidences of it in the fully matured peach. A good, healthy peach pit means good healthy peach. The indications are now that the fruit will be larger than it has been for several years and that the flavor will be fully sustained. Early sorts are ripening in excellent shape and the size of that which has been marketed shows that the rain, while it has rotted some of the fruit has been of a general benefit. The rot in grape vineyards is noticeable yet the damage will not be so great as it has been reported. The most damage will result from the hail storms that have passed over a portion of the fruit belt during the last ten days.

A POLITICAL COMBINE.

Leading Democrat Says That Bliss and Pingree Have Combined.

J. W. Thorn, of Owosso, the political backer of Wellington R. Burt for the democratic nomination for governor, was in the city last night and engaged in his favorite pastime—talking politics.

"I will tell you what it is, Pingree is the shrewdest politician in the state. He has come out openly against Burrows and will give the junior senator the liveliest kind of a hustle. Pingree has formed an alliance with Colonel Bliss. Bliss you will notice, has invited the governor to Buffalo to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. and Pingree in a very courteous note has accepted. All this means that Bliss will support Pingree next year and a year later Pingree will support Bliss. Colonel Bliss is the biggest man in the Michigan G. A. R. and above everything else he wants to be governor of the state. Watch and see if I am not right."

MICHIGAN SLIGHTED.

She Has Not Her Full Share of the Offices.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—Joseph P. Smith, the new director of the bureau of American republic, has just created a sensation among the office seekers here by publishing a special bulletin containing the personnel of the diplomatic and consular service right up to date. Never before in the history of the government has a diplomatic and consular list been issued that was in any sense a reliable basis for the office seeker to work upon.

The small showing which Michigan makes in the bulletin has attracted the attention of several aspirants for honors in the consular service who want to be sent abroad and charged to the Wolverine state! One patient office seeker in commenting on the new publication said:

"I don't suppose the people of Michigan realize that in the entire diplomatic and consular service, which now numbers a little more than 1,200 places, but eleven Michigan men are provided for, and, with a single exception, these are very modest places. The list shows 101 offices in the diplomatic service, of which Michigan has two—Minister James B. Angell, recently appointed to Turkey, and Mr. McCreary, secretary of the legation at Mexico.

"In the consular service, according to the new bulletin, there are about 1,000 places, of which Michigan has nine, or only about one-third what she is entitled to if taken as an average state in the Union. These places are none of them of special consequence, seven of them being in Canada. W. K. Anderson at Hanover, Germany, is the only representative in all Europe."

THE "NEW WOMAN."

Comes to the Front in Barnum & Bailey's Show.

The "new woman," so-called, comes to the front in the Barnum & Bailey show in fine style. Year by year, while women are usurping what were formerly exclusively masculine commercial lines of business, they are also demonstrating their peculiar capacity for all sorts of professional athletics. Women refuse to be ground down by the iron heel of man even in physical exertion and endurance. They are showing more aptness in acrobatics than the opposite sex. In the great Barnum show this season the women absorb more of the business than ever before. When the first circus woman not a rider made her appearance not many years ago she was billed as a great sensation. Yet she did little else than pose and slide down a wire with a leather strap in her teeth, and her golden hair streaming down her back. Since then women have become distinguished among professional athletics for something more than an iron jaw. The big show illustrates this in a startling way. There are two women ringmasters, two women clowns, a dozen pretty women assistants in knickerbockers, half a dozen women trapezists, as many of the horizontal bars, women jugglers, women tumblers, women wire walkers, women clog dancers, a female hypnotist of horses, women horse trainers, women pigeon shooters, band leader, contortionists, and the human arrow, or the daring woman who is shot through midair from a cross-bow. Besides these, all of the women bareback riders do acrobatic feats, such as leaping on and off at full gallop, while one woman does the somersault on horseback just the same as the champion male riders of the ring. This is the first time such a feat has ever been attempted by a woman. The biggest woman in the world, over eight feet high, heads the museum of human wonders—wherein also disport feminine snake charmers, women magicians and memory freaks, etc. And there, by the way, is a lifelike representation of the coming man in a midget of 23 inches height. Women in the circus are doing much to destroy the vine and oak theory of the relation of the sexes.

The big show will exhibit in Benton Harbor next Saturday.

TWIN CITY TELEPHONE 172.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1897.

As Congressman Hamilton believes that the foreigner pays the tax he is consistent in thinking that the foreigner ought to hold the postoffice.

THE papers at Columbus, O., are rejoicing because the large factory of the Columbus buggy company resumed operations on July 20. In a short time 1,000 men, who have been idle, will be put to work.

THE danger to life in the Klondike country may be better understood from the fact that the leading insurance companies have refused to issue policies to Klondike pilgrims. Some companies talk of cancelling policies already issued if the holders venture to the Alaskan gold fields.

THE St. Joseph alderman who took so bitterly in favor of the Bell telephone company accused the members of the council opposed to him of having a financial interest in the Twin City company. The accuser could have opened up things more fully had he explained what interest he had in bolstering up the Bell monopoly.

VERY hard times are predicted for Benton Harbor this winter, a prediction which will not be suffered. Although the fruit crop thus far has been reaped at no profit the fact should be remembered that Berrien county is a large producer of wheat and wheat is bringing a handsome price. If fruit were selling at a good figure and wheat at 40 cents no one would talk about the berry profits but there would be a continuous groan about the money the fruitgrowers were losing. Let's forget the berry business just now and think about wheat!

Senator Pettus' Prophecy.

This is a story that an Alabamian tells about Senator Pettus and ex-Senator Pugh: "During Mr. Cleveland's first administration Mr. Pettus was anxious to fill the place on the supreme court bench to which Senator Lamar was afterward appointed. He applied to his friend Senator Pugh, and the latter made an earnest and sincere appeal for the appointment of Mr. Pettus. The president inquired as to the age of Pettus, and when informed said he was too old. Senator Pugh communicated this fact to Pettus, and also suggested to another eminent but younger lawyer in his state to apply for the place, as it was a settled fact that a southern man would surely succeed to the vacancy. Senator Pettus heard of Senator Pugh's letter to the other friend, and it made him mad. Coming to Washington, he called on Pugh and asked him why he did not stand out for him. Pugh explained that Mr. Cleveland would not alter his determination about not appointing a man of Pettus' age, but this did not satisfy Pettus. Before leaving Pugh Pettus said, 'Well, I may be too old to sit on the supreme bench of the land, but I am not too old to sit in the senate, and your seat will just about fit me.' Pettus was as good as a prophet. He succeeded Senator Pugh on the 4th of March last, and if I am not mistaken occupied the identical seat which Pugh occupied during a former term. Senator Pugh was 77 last December. Senator Pettus is 76."—Washington Post.

dence to show that the claim of Crawford was unjust. The justice decided in favor of the Fayette people.

REDUCTION AGAIN

Used to Restraine the West Virginia Strike Leaders.

SWEEPING ORDER BY THE JUDGE.

Covers Everything That the Strikers Can Possibly Do and Is Issued by a United States Court—Why Pittsburg Coal Operators Are Not Trying to Run Their Mines—How Things Are Going with the Siege of the De Armit Workings.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 5.—On the application of James Sloan, Jr., of Baltimore, a stockholder in the Monongah Coke and Coal company, made by ex-Governor Fleming, his counsel, Judge Jackson in the United States court yesterday afternoon, granted a sweeping injunction restraining Eugene V. Debs and his associates from in any way interfering with or molesting the management or the conducting of the property of the Monongah Coke and Coal company, or its employees, either by trespassing upon the property of the company or approaching thereto, or inciting its employees to strike, or interfering in any manner whatever, either by word or deed, in the company's affairs. The text of the writ covers everything that can possibly be construed into an infringement of rights of corporations, and practically prevents all future agitation in the vicinity of the Monongah mines.

Pittsburg Operators Are Quiescent.

Pittsburg, Aug. 5.—One of the notable features of the strike of the miners has been the absence of effort by the operators to get their miners to work. There has been no meeting by them to consider the situation, nor have there been any attempts to start mines with new men. This was explained yesterday by an operator, who said he is satisfied to have the strike continue until January, as he has enough coal to last him, or can get it at prices which will enable him to make profit. The lower river markets are reported to be well stocked with Pittsburg coal, and by reason of almost continuous navigation from January until July large stocks have been accumulated in the New Orleans, Louisville and Cincinnati markets, and no coal boat stage of water can be expected now before November. Some of the rail operators have plenty of coal, one producer claiming to have not less than 200,000 tons available for his contracts, and others can buy coal at a price almost as low as they can produce it. Ruling prices are 75 cents, free on board cars at shipping point, for "run of the mine," and $1 to $1.25 for screened coal.

Hearings of Riot Cases.

At the hearing in the case of President Dolan and others for riot and unlawful assemblage yesterday afternoon before Justice Slemmons, a number of witnesses were heard, but the justice reserved his decision until this afternoon. The hearing of the four miners arrested last week at the McGovern mines near Canonsburg for trespass was concluded yesterday afternoon. No evidence connecting the defendants directly with the song "We'll Hang Blacksheep to a Sour Apple Tree," or with the use of opprobrious epithets was produced. None of the defendants appeared at the hearing, and they were held in contempt. Attachments were issued for their arrest.

Warner's Compliments to De Armit.

Secretary Warner paid his compliments to President De Armit, of the New York and Cleveland company, in no very choice terms. The reason for this was the publication of a story that De Armit had said that $10,000 had been sent into the Pittsburg district by the West Virginia operators, in order to bring about a strike of the miners in this district, and thus force the price of coal up. Both the secretary and President M. P. Carrick, of the Painters and Decorators, characterized the story as a canard, and said that if it were true they would hardly send organizers into that district to induce the men to strike, if possible. Organizer Cameron Miller is arranging for a meeting of business men and miners to take place at Roscoe, in the fourth pool, at 1 p. m. today. He expects about 1,800 men will be in attendance, coming from all the mines in the fourth pool, from Dunlevy to California. The meeting will be addressed by Dolan and Miller.

BIG OPEN AIR DEMONSTRATION.

Will Be Held at Pittsburg to Advocate Freedom of Speech.

Arrangements have been completed for the open air demonstration under the auspices of the United Labor League of western Pennsylvania this evening on the Duquesne wharf in the interest of the striking miners. The leaders expect 20,000 people to attend. They are urging everybody to attend to show by their presence that they are in favor of free speech and the right of peaceful assemblage. The speakers will talk from a wagon. The meeting will be addressed by Eugene V. Debs; Mrs. Mary Jones, of Chicago; M. M. Garland, president, and W. A. Carney, vice president of the Amalgamated Association, United Mine Workers; Organizer Cameron Miller; M. P. Carrick, national president of the Painters and Decorators' union, and M. J. Coughlin, national secretary of the Plumbers' union.

After the addresses an appeal will be made to the audience for financial assistance for the striking miners, and the leaders expect that the results will show that the public is in hearty sympathy with the miners in their struggle for living wages. The miners claim that if they can only get a little more financial assistance they will easily win the strike, and are straining every nerve to accomplish their end. The miners at the Schmoeck mines on the Redstone branch of the Pennsylvania railroad came out again yesterday and the mines are closed down. This intelligence caused the price of coal to jump from 75 to $1 a ton and brokers say there will probably be another advance to $1.50 per ton before the end of the next week.

Illinois Miners Get a Raise.

Marion, Ills., Aug. 5.—The miners at the mines of the Ohio and Mississippi Valley Coal and Mining company struck yesterday morning and demanded a raise of 10 cents per ton for cleaning and removal, and 10 cents per ton for articles are running on full time and bonus pay.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 5.—The miners at Cincinnati joined the strikers yesterday, and marched on Mendoza, Mo., to get the men out there. About half the miners in the Centerville district are working with half the men out.

Both Sides Claim a Victory.

Milwaukee, Aug. 5.—The Illinois Steel company last night signed the Amalgamated scale regulating work in the top and bottom mill. The conference with a committee of finishers lasted until last evening. One hundred men returned to work in this mill this morning. The other departments, with the exception of the new reduction mill, will remain idle for an indefinite period. Both sides claim a victory. The men concede a 15 per cent. reduction in the wages of rollers, heaters, roughers and helpers, and the company conceded that the men work under tonnage scale instead of by the day.

Work on a New Shaft Stopped.

Kewanee, Ills., Aug. 5.—One hundred coal miners from Gilchrist and Galva were here last night and held a private meeting with the miners of this place. A new shaft is being opened up here, and while no coal is being shipped and very little taken out the object of the visit of these miners from our neighboring towns seems to be for the purpose of stopping all work. While the management of the shaft offers to ship no coal to other points, it looks at present as if the miners will all remain out.

Eviction of Strikers Begun.

California, Pa., Aug. 5.—The Chamonix miners received their first experience of strike hardships yesterday. A force of deputies from Uniontown was busy all day evicting tenants from company houses. Some of the men who were put out claim that they had paid rent a month in advance. The Little Bill steamer is expected to arrive with a barge load of men to take the places of the striking miners.

DR. ANDREWS AND HIS VIEWS.

Representative Walker Says He Is Unsound on Various Questions.

New Hampton, N. H., Aug. 5.—Representative Joseph H. Walker, of Worcester, who is a member of the board of trustees of Brown university and to whose opposition to the public utterances of President Andrews on the subject of free silver the recent resignation of Dr. Andrews is attributed, stated yesterday that he personally started the trouble at Brown university at a meeting of the corporation of the university last June. This was done because the utterances of President Andrews were at variance with the views of the corporation on the question of national financial policy.

Walker said: "Nothing was said or done at the meeting of the trustees of the university in June that was not clearly within the line of duty upon the part of every member of the board, and everything was said and done with a feeling of the warmest friendship for Dr. Andrews." In turning from the corporation, every one of whom was his friend, to the public and taking the position he has "I cannot see how, by any possibility, the relations which must necessarily exist between the president of the university and the corporation can be re-established."

Walker declared, in closing the interview, that Dr. Andrews has taught other things than silver which were thought to be detrimental to the progress of the university. His position upon the wage question, Walker said, is bad.

THE ROWDY NATIONAL GAME.

Two Pretty Incidents During the League Games Played Yesterday.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—There were two cases of rowdiness at National League baseball games yesterday. At Cincinnati Umpire Hurst had given the Reds the worst of a decision and an irate rooter rolled a beer glass into the diamond. Umpire Hurst picked up the glass and threw it into the rooter's row and hit John Cartuyvelles over the right eye, inflicting a serious wound. A patrol wagon was immediately called and Hurst was arrested, charged with assault and battery. At Louisville Burkett, of the Cleveland club, called Umpire Wolf a vile name and was ordered out of the game. Captain Tebeau refused to put a man in to bat for Burkett and after waiting five minutes Wolf gave the game to Louisville, 9 to 0. In the ninth inning of the second game Burkett again insulted Umpire Wolf and was ordered out of the game. He refused to leave first base and the umpire called two policemen and the Indians' tough left-fielder was forcibly ejected from the grounds.

Scenes on the Ball Field.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—League baseball records yesterday were: At Brooklyn—Washington 1, Brooklyn 2; at Chicago—St. Louis 13, Chicago 12; at Louisville—First game given to Louisville because of Cleveland's rowdiness; (second game) Cleveland 4, Louisville 7; at Cincinnati—Pittsburg 3, Cincinnati 4; (second game) Pittsburg 4, Cincinnati 4—six innings, darkness.

Western League: At Grand Rapids—Milwaukee 7, Grand Rapids 6; at Columbus—Rain; at Indianapolis—Kansas City 4, Indianapolis 5.

The New Woman Is Coming On.

Middlesborough, Ky., Aug. 5.—News reached here last night that Mrs. Lee Coombs, a prominent and wealthy lady of Clay county, shot and killed Miss Sallie Hooker, a belle of Clay county. The tragedy took place at the Coombs residence. It appears Mrs. Coombs left her home saying she would be gone all day. She changed her mind, however, and returned. Upon entering her home she caught her husband and Miss Hooker in a compromising position and the shooting followed.

Will Honeymoon at Camp Meeting.

Rockford, Ills., Aug. 5.—Rev. W. L. Whipple, pastor of the South Elgin Methodist Episcopal church, was married at Harlem, north of this city, yesterday afternoon to Miss Mary Swarthout, a prominent young lady socially. They will spend their honeymoon at the Epworth grove camp meeting.

A FAMOUS BAKERY.

How the Bollands Became Cakemakers For the Royal Family.

In one of the old buildings which bear the architectural imprint of Queen Anne's time in Chester, England, is a bakeshop—not an ordinary bakeshop, for the royal arms jut out from the second story, and immediately above is a sign bearing the name "Bollands." And the proximity of the sign to the royal arms is no idle commercial myth to insure new customers.

In the annals of the tradesfolk of Chester there never was a greater man than Richard Bolland, the original owner of the bakeshop. In 1836 the Duchess of Kent and her young daughter, the Princess Victoria, visited the city for the purpose of officially opening a new bridge that was to bring all kinds of importance and prosperity to the town. Of course it was an immense event for Chester, and every one did something to make the visit of the great folks memorable.

Richard Bolland was ambitious, but poor, and he churred his brains mightily to devise some attractive method of showing his loyal appreciation of the visit. In a happy moment he decided to make some small cakes of transcendent excellence, put them in a fancy box and present them to the young princess.

Happy thought! Potent cakes! Great Bolland!

The next year the little princess, whose palate had been enchanted by the flavor of the Chester cakes, became queen of England, and one of the first acts after her accession in 1837 was the appointment of Bolland as one of the queen's warrant holders. So much for the power of a box of small cakes.

How long the flavor of those cakes lingered in the royal memory is shown by the fact that 25 years later, when the Prince of Wales was to be married, Victoria gave a commission to Bolland to prepare the wedding cake for that great event. It was no ordinary wedding cake that Mr. Bolland produced either, and its exhibition earned him such tremendous fame that every English bride of wealth and prominence who has married since then has had the Chester baker prepare her wedding cake.

Descendants of the original Bolland now conduct the shop, but they use the same recipe that proved so successful in the days of Victoria's childhood, and still bake cakes for the royal family.—Philadelphia Press.

The Leper and the Flagstone.

One of the principal legends connected with St. Patrick's altar stone, according to a writer in Donahoe's Magazine, is called the "Legend of the Leper and the Flagstone." This story runs as follows: When St. Patrick was embarking for Ireland to enter upon his mission, a poor leper came to the seashore just as the ship was about to weigh anchor and earnestly begged to be taken on board. It is probable that he had heard something of the holiness of the saint and the proofs of divine favor conferred upon him, and that deep within his inner consciousness there was born a hope, vague at first, but gradually growing stronger, that in the company of St. Patrick he might expect some amelioration of his pitiable condition. Something in the man appealed to the saint, who was so deeply touched by his pleadings that he expressed a wish to have the despised leper taken on board, but fear and prejudice had such an influence over the sailors that they would not allow the leper on board, and the ship began to move out while the afflicted man continued to plead from the beach. The saint took his altar stone and cast it on the water within reach of the leper, telling him to sit on it and remain perfectly quiet. Again was the faith of the man shown, and as soon as he had seated himself the stone began to move over the water. It followed immediately in the wake of the ship until it reached the harbor of Wicklow, and the leper thus reached the shores of Erin in safety. St. Patrick again took possession of the stone.

Great fancifulness is manifested for tea napkins and tea-towels. Floral embroideries, violets, poppies, forget-me-nots, and ferns are much favored, and are very delicate. There are also multicolored embroideries in the Russian and Hungarian styles, with openwork effects.

Ivory objects that have become yellowed by time may be bleached to their primitive whiteness by brushing them with turpentine and exposing them to the sunlight for several days.

Persons whose eyes are troublesome should never read in bed. The eyes should be bathed morning and night with water as hot as can be borne, and all fine needle-work should be avoided. Sewing is worse than reading or writing if the sight is at all fatigued or impaired.

The best remedy for obesity is a system of diet and exercise, for it is a system entirely devoid of danger and does not depend for success upon the use of chemicals and violent drugs. It is necessary, however, that the regime of reduction should be faithfully and uninterruptedly followed, and it requires more time and patience than many persons are willing to give. Little food should be taken, no more than is absolutely necessary to health and comfort, and all fatmaking and sweet foods should be entirely avoided. Walking, bicycling, horseback exercise, swimming and gymnastics should be indulged in as much as possible, and the activity of all the functions should be carefully maintained.

An illustration is given of a bolero cape, the body of which is of black satin, trimmed in front and behind with jet fringe. The cape sleeves consist of two very full flounces of embroidered black mouseline de sole. Around the neck is a large, thick ruche of black mouseline de sole, closed by coquilles and a large bow of black satin ribbon. The hat of water green straw is trimmed with pink roses and ears of green taffeta.

Yellowstone Lake.

"There is an individuality about lakes. Perhaps the most striking thing about Yellowstone lake is its high altitude. It is up among the mountains and clouds in Yellowstone park nearly a mile and a half—7,741 feet—above where the sportive summer girl sits on the beach at the Atlantic ocean while the lazy wavelets ripple about her dainty toes. But as high as it is the mountains rise higher still by thousands of feet. In a solemn, owl-like fashion they blink down at the lake, and the lake blinks back at them. These mountains are well defined peaks, and cones, and turrets, and nearly all are named. Some of them are in this way redolent of the old explorers, the men who first braved the perils and difficulties of an unknown, untrodden wilderness. Such are Colter peak and Mount Doane."

The above is taken from "Wonderland '97," a beautiful new tourist book published by the Northern Pacific railway. It will be mailed to any address upon receipt of six cents in stamps by CHAS. S. FEE, Gen'l Pass. agent, St. Paul, Minn.
